

Huskers Test Offense Today Against Carolina Defense

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Writer

Although the two teams have never met on the gridiron, Nebraska and North Carolina State have more than casual interest in Saturday's 2 p.m. contest at the Huskers' Memorial Stadium.

Nebraska fans can think back to the 1955 Orange Bowl when Duke stomped their Cornhuskers, 34-7, and this is the first time Nebraska has had a shot at an Atlantic Coast Conference team since that day in Miami, Fla.

Coach Bob Devaney's dandies are also interested in keeping their unbeaten slate clean as they enter the Big 8 chase in earnest the following week.

Losers To Devaney
The North Carolina State squad will be looking for its first win against a Devaney-coached team, having lost to Wyoming twice while the Huskers head mentor was at the Cowboy helm.

The Wolfpack dropped a 26-0 decision in 1959 and lost, 15-14, two years later.

North Carolina State brings a tough defensive club with a 1-2 record to Lincoln for the annual Band Day affair, a Nebraska original.

Sturdy Defense
But contrary to past years when the most interesting thing on the field may have been the bands, this year's Husker squad can throw a potent offense at the Wolfpack that is expected to test their sturdy defense.

Nebraska, riding the crest of a 3-game winning streak with victories over South Dakota, Michigan, and Iowa State, is averaging 4.6 yards per play on the ground and 8.8 through the air for a total offense figure of 5.5 yards per play.

Meanwhile, North Carolina State's defense has given up only 2.3 yards per carry on the ground and 7.0 via the airways.

While the Huskers offense has been the outstanding feature of the first 3 contests, Nebraska's line with Bob Brown, Tyrone Robertson, Gary Toogood—who will miss Saturday's game because of injuries — Dwain Carlson, Lloyd Voss, John Kirby, Ron Michka, Jim Baffico, and Al Fischer, has held opponents to only 3.3 yards rushing per play.

Quickest Route
The Huskers may find the quickest route to success against the Wolfpack is through the air and with triple-threat star Dennis Claridge at the controls, this phase would appear to be in good hands.

Claridge, who directs the Huskers with the coolness and daring of a Mississippi Riverboat gambler, has hit 18 of 32 passes for 269 yards.

Backfield Out
For the second straight week, Nebraska will be without the full services of 3 of its top backfield aces and the trio may not see action at all.

Fullback Bill Thornton and halfbacks Dennis Stuewe and Dave Theisen are hampered by injuries. Stuewe is the leading ball carrier with an 11.0 average.

The battle shapes up as a contest between Nebraska's offense and the Wolfpack's defense. While the Huskers wins have come in high-scoring games—53-0 over South Dakota, 25-13 over Michigan, and 36-22 against Iowa State — North Carolina State has given up more than one TD only once.

That came last week against Maryland as the Wolfpack dropped a 14-6 decision. They edged North Carolina, 7-6, in the season's opener, then were shut out, 7-0, by Clemson. So the Huskers foe will be out to end a two-game losing streak on their side of the ledger and a 3-game winning streak on the Huskers side.

This is the last non-conference clash for Nebraska, with Kansas State coming to town next week, then a trip to Colorado before returning for the Homecoming battle with Missouri on Nov. 3.

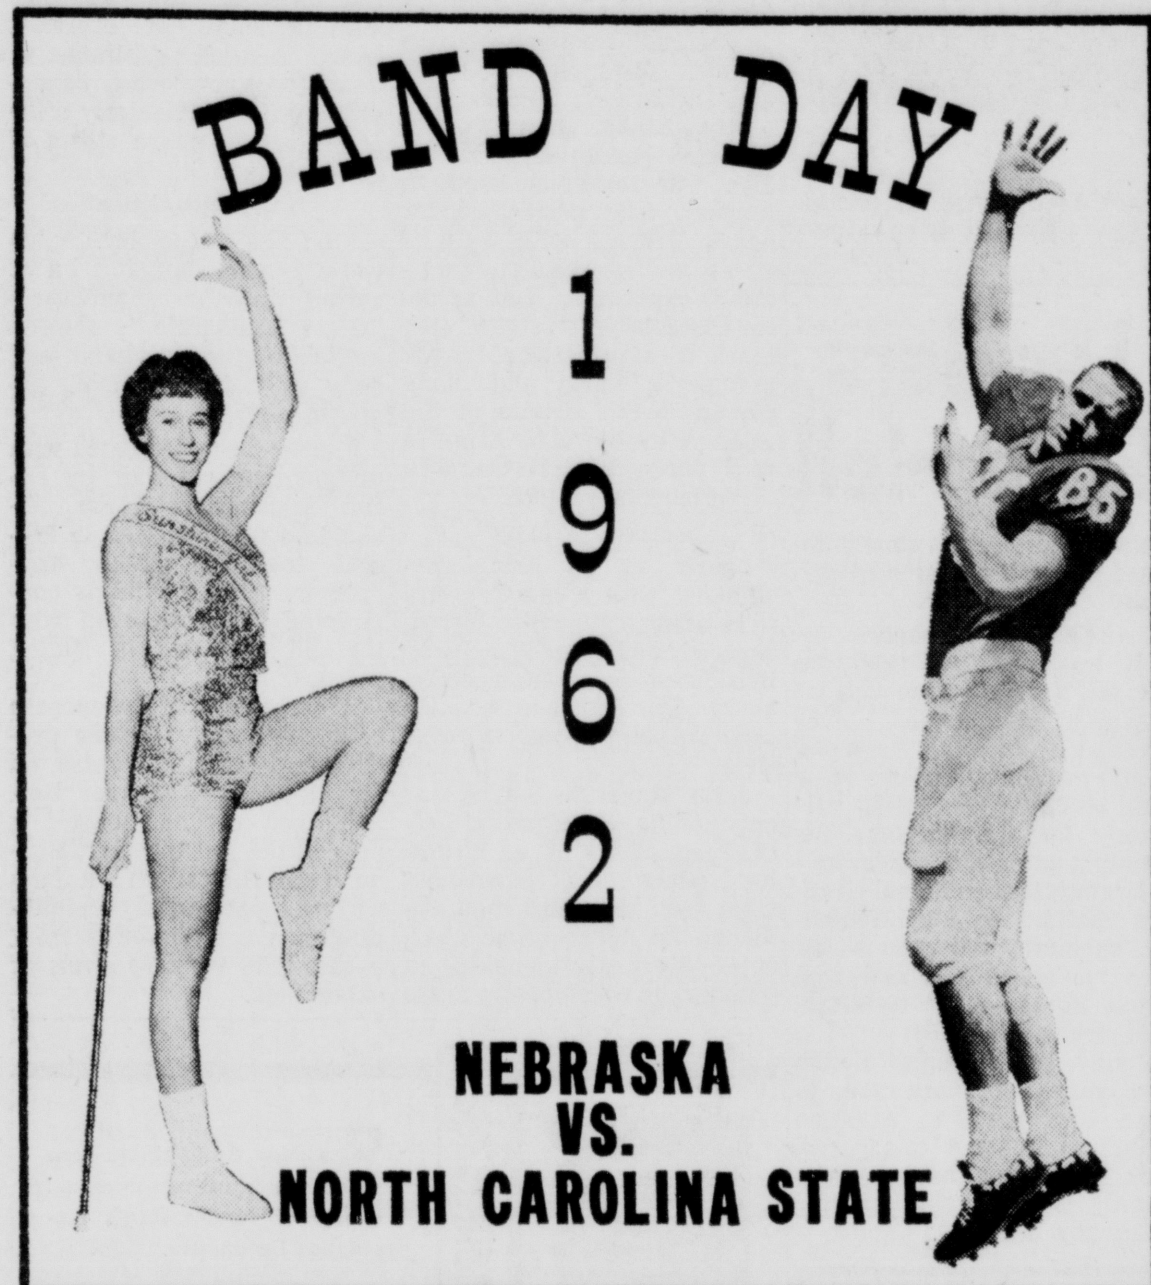

A near-capacity crowd is assured with all Stadium seats sold out and only a few general admission tickets remaining as interest continues to mount in the 1962 Husker football machine.

Coach's Capsule

Bob Devaney of Nebraska — "We're looking forward to playing this fine North Carolina State team, coached by my old friend Earle Edwards. We just hope injuries haven't cut our efficiency too much. We need this game badly and certainly can't look beyond it to the Big 8.

Earle Edwards of North Carolina State — "This rivalry between Bob Devaney and myself is supposed to be a friendly one. But Bob hasn't made it so with his two victories over us while at Wyoming. We'll do our best to get even. Actually we will be meeting the best offensive team on our schedule and I just hope our defense, which has held up pretty well in our other 3 games, will be able to contain them."

President Hits Blind Opposition

Pittsburgh (AP)—President Kennedy said Friday night Republican campaign orators "Cannot wipe out the period of blind opposition" he said the GOP has written against the forward progress of the country.

Kennedy delivered a slashing attack on the Republicans before a howling, cheering crowd of about 8,500 who jammed the University of Pittsburgh Field House at the end of a day of low-gear campaigning in New Jersey and New York.

For the moment, Kennedy stepped back into the role of a President who — as he put it — has a responsibility as chief executive "to have a program and to fight for it."

This was a switch from the appearances he made before hitting Pennsylvania.

Kennedy obviously was buoyed by a howling welcome, in a key state the Democratic Party must carry if it hopes to succeed in a drive to add more Democrats to the rolls in Congress and to best the Republicans in gubernatorial races.

Kennedy told the perspiring field house crowd that this is "the most dangerous and most critical period in U.S. history."

To face this, he said, he has to have in Congress more Democrats "committed to progress."

For the first time in his fall touring, Kennedy lashed out at what he called the "predominantly conservative coalition" of Southern Democrats and Republicans.

Kennedy told the cheering crowd that the difference of only one vote in the Senate had defeated his health care plan for the elderly.

He said that if Democrats sat down in this campaign the 88th Congress would be in control of "Dominant Republican-conservative Democratic coalition that will defeat progress on every single one of our measures."

"That is why I come here and ask your help in electing a progressive Congress," he said.

SOUTH DAKOTA FARMER COPS
THIRD AT GRAND ISLAND

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Grand Island—Michigan cornpickers set a fast pace here Friday in the National Cornpicking Contest by capturing two of the 3 first places.

The highest score in the contest was a 97.53 chalked up by Lawrence W. Fisher, 23, of Palmyra, Mich. The other Michigan win came in the two-row picker division when Fred Morris of Lake Odessa led his division with a 92.58 score.

The 3rd win went to a South Dakota farmer, William Buller of Brookings, with a top performance in the picker-sheller division.

The defending 1961 champions failed to register among the top positions.

Iowa Woman 6th
Drawing a big gallery was the combine division, featuring the only woman state champion entered in the classic, Mrs. William Hernik of Belle Plaine, Iowa. She came in for 6th position in a field of 8 contestants.

The contest might have been termed mainly a young man's show. The second top score of the day went to the second place corn combine winner, Robert Hodge of Jamesville, Wis., who has been farming only since June and is still a student at Wisconsin State College.

The best Nebraska entries could muster was a 3rd place taken by George Neeman of Talmage in the picker-sheller division.

Officials said the top contest performance in the field was turned in by the corn combine.

"This division didn't leave as much corn in the field and did a cleaner job," said an official.

Nab Firth Youth In Car Wheel Act

A 19-year-old Firth youth was jailed by Lancaster County deputy sheriffs early Saturday after they caught him removing some wheels from a parked car.

Deputies R. D. Lane and Vincent McNeil said they drove up to Tate's Service Station 8 miles west of Lincoln on U.S. 77, just as the boy got the wheel lugs loose and was getting ready to jack the car up.

40,000 Attendance

An estimated 40,000 persons attended Friday's contest, falling short of the expected 50,000. The drop in attendance was attributed to the failure of U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to appear on the program as previously "scheduled."

One of the crowd pleasers was the $3 million 40-acre machinery exhibit.

A spokesman from Monroe, Wis., site of next year's National Cornpicking Contest, declared: "If we have our way about it, we'll cut out all political aspects next year. We'll keep the event on a cornpicking-machinery demonstration level next year."

The Grand Island event was sponsored by Meredith WOW, University of Nebraska and the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce.

The results:

Two-row pickers: 1. Fred Morris, Lake Odessa, Mich.; 2. Melvin Whiteley, Salisbury, Mo.; 3. Neil Anderson, Richland, Ohio; 4. Von Gertsch, Monroe, Neb.; 5. Milford Karli, Valley Springs, S.D.; 6. Cleo Hart, Holt, Mo. (1961 winner); 7. Norman Hansen, Farmington, Minn.; 8. Leonard Hosch, Scotch Grove, Iowa.

Picker-shellers: 1. William Buller, Brookings, S.D.; 2. Donald Wiese, Mountain Lake, Minn.; 3. George Neeman, Talmage, Neb.; 4. Raymond Werner, Columbus Junction, Iowa; 5. Dean Hahn, DeForest, Wis.

Combines: 1. Lawrence Fisher, Palmyra, Mich.; 2. Robert Hodge, Jamesville, Wis.; 3. Vincent Swanson, Beresford, S.D.; 4. George Miller, Carrollton, Mo.; 5. Bernard Hay, Olin, Iowa (1961 winner); 6. Mrs. William Hernik, Belle Plaine, Iowa; 7. Adrian Koorman, Chandler, Minn.; 8. John Potthast, Hebron, Neb.

Congress Kept In Session By Lack Of House Quorum

Washington (AP)—Congress missed another adjournment target Friday night when the House — many of whose members have gone home to campaign for re-election — failed to muster a working majority.

Leaders had been driving hard to crack deadlocks over a number of water projects of the type often called "pork barrel" and thought they were in sight of the goal, only to have their hopes dashed.

When final adjournment will come now remained uncertain.

Both branches agreed to come back at noon (EDT) Saturday to try again, but with tempers badly frayed there was no assurance of success.

Monkey Wrench

This session of Congress has already appropriated more than $90 billion, but the item which threw the monkey wrench into Friday night's adjournment plans involved only $205,000.

The Senate had included the $205,000 for final pre-construction planning of the Florida cross-state barge canal in a public works appropriation bill, one of two big money measures still pending.

Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the House Appropriations Committee, which had rejected funds for the canal project earlier in the session, sought to knock it out.

Only 204
Cannon lost, 120 to 84, but the vote disclosed that only 204 members were on hand. That was 14 short of the 218 needed for a quorum, or working majority.

Even then, a long delay had occurred before the 204 were rounded up.

Rather than make a further effort to bring in absent members, majority leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma moved for adjournment and speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts declared the motion carried.

Leaders believed they could bring in enough absentees by noon Saturday to produce a quorum and continue business. Many of the missing members were easterners who had left Friday. Others were California members who had headed home for Saturday's funeral for Rep. Clem Miller of California.

Senate Waiting

The abrupt House adjournment found the Senate in recess, waiting for legislation to come from the House.

Democratic Senate leader Mike Mansfield of Montana conferred for about an hour with other congressional leaders, and then adjourned the Senate overnight.

Leaders of both the House and Senate were known to have had their fingers crossed lest someone make the point of no quorum or force a roll-call vote. There has been a steady exodus of members in the past few days.

Missing the adjournment target was particularly galling to many Senators who had given up insistence on pet projects in the hope that such action would help clear the path.

Senate conferees had yielded to the House on $1.5 billion in authorizations for "work barrel" projects — clearing away what had appeared until then the biggest obstacle to adjournment.

Big Break

The big break came late in the afternoon when Senate-House conferees reported agreement on a measure authorizing navigation, flood control and power dam projects to be built in future years with funds to be appropriated later.

Final action isn't necessary at present but these authorizations are important to incumbents seeking re-election.

The bill provides $2,122,000 for flood control work on Pappillon Creek in Nebraska and $88,070,000 for the Kansas river basin in Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado.

After a 3-day struggle pitting Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., against Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of the House Rules Committee, the Senate agreed to drop nearly all the added projects.

Warmer Temps Coming Saturday

Saturday will bring slightly warmer temperatures to the Lincoln area. Highs are expected to be in the upper 70's.

The skies will be partly cloudy, but no rain is forecast by the Weather Bureau. Friday's high of 80 was recorded at Broken Bow. The low of 37 was reported from Sidney.

Nehru Tells Chinese He'll Drive Them Out

New Delhi, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru sounded a warning Friday that he has ordered the Indian army to drive Chinese Communists from "our territory" on the northeast frontier.

In a sternly confident mood, Nehru declined to say when his troops would strike but declared they were "strongly positioned and in a large number, operating from higher ground."

There was no immediate reaction from Peiping to Nehru's latest warning that sounded like an ultimatum. But Red China has repeatedly threatened to fight any attempt to oust Communist troops by force from disputed land in the high Himalayas.

An Indian spokesman indicated Friday a lull had set in after Wednesday's bloody battle near the Kechilang River in an area bordering Chinese-occupied Tibet, in which New Delhi and Peiping both claimed a victory.

Nehru estimated the Communists suffered nearly 100 casualties—3 times the 33 casualties acknowledged by Peiping. Indian losses were officially listed here at 6 killed, 11 wounded and 7 missing.

Free Territory

Nehru told reporters, just before boarding a plane for Ceylon, he had ordered the army "to free our territory in the northeast frontier."

The prime minister's departure from the country for 3 days indicated Indian troops were not about to start marching immediately.

Before leaving, Nehru held urgent consultations with Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and Foreign Ministry officials on the border crisis in the light of the latest fighting.

Nehru told newsmen: "So long as this particular aggression continues there appears to be no chance of talks."

The Indian leader has repeatedly insisted the Chinese must withdraw before he would negotiate the 50,000-square miles in dispute.

Nehru took no public cognizance of Peiping's stiff warning Thursday in what the Communist called "another strongest and most serious protest" concerning Wednesday's fight.

Flames of War

The Peiping note declared: "Should the Indian side still not rein in before the precipice but continue to spread the flames of war, the Indian government must bear full responsibility for the resulting casualties on both sides and all other consequences that may ensue."

Investigators Work On Confiscated Code Cards

Washington (AP)—Government investigators worked to break what appeared to be a code on stacks of cards confiscated in the arrest of an associate of former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

A Justice Department official, acknowledging that the cards were seized from Ashland E. Burchwell, denied a published report that the coded material was a list of members belonging to a right-wing extremist group.

Burchwell, 22, was a worker in Walker's unsuccessful gubernatorial primary campaign in Texas. The former general, arrested on seditious conspiracy and insurrection charges Oct. 1 after racial riots at the University of Mississippi, is awaiting a court-ordered psychiatric examination. He is free on $50,000 bond.

The Justice Department said Burchwell was arrested Sept. 30 by local police in Dallas, Tex. on a traffic charge.

A cardboard box with 200 to 300 cards and a switchblade knife were found after the arrest, a department official said.

A federal charge of transporting the knife interstate was filed against Burchwell and he was released on $500 bond after an arraignment before a U.S. commissioner, the official said.

The cards were described as about the size of index filing cards and were said to bear on one side information and a list of items one might need for a camping trip or extended outdoor activity—camping equipment, snake bite remedies and similar items.

The other side of the card bore "what appeared to be a numbered code," the department said.

A justice official said the Federal Bureau of Investigation was examining the cards but their meaning had not yet been determined.

Pope Warns World Leaders To Make Peace Or Face Hell

Vatican City (AP)—Pope John XXIII gravely told national envoys from around the globe Friday that their governments must make peace or face an awful reckoning. He equated the reckoning with hell itself.

Necessary Sacrifices
At the same time, he also saw the possibility of a new climate of international harmony and he pleaded for intensified efforts and the national "sacrifices that are necessary" to achieve this.

"It is time something decisive was done," Pope John said.

It was an extraordinary papal appeal, holding out both stern warning and high hope, presented against the backdrop of the 21st Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council, which opened here Thursday.

And the Pope made it in a striking setting.

Assembled before him in the famed Sistine Chapel were diplomatic representatives of 85 nations. The Pope sat on a throne in front of a wall covered by Michelangelo's powerful painting of the Last Judgment.

Account To God
All heads of states, the Pope said, "must remember that they will one day have to account for their actions to God their Creator, who will also be their Supreme Judge."

Behind him, in overwhelming imagery, was the painting that showed lost, bitter men, plunging with devils into the abyss of hell while angels and the righteous gathered in a radiant area of serenity.

Chosen Purposely
It was the first time the chapel, normally reserved for liturgical ceremonies, ever has been used for a diplomatic audience. And the Pope said he chose the setting purposely for the message the painting offered his hearers.

Urging that national leaders continue to meet together, negotiate and even sacrifice "to reach just and generous agreements" to establish peace, he said:

"May this thought of the reckoning that they are to face spur them to omit no effort to achieve this blessing, which for the human family is a blessing greater than any other."

Police said the thief was seen fleeing south from the scene of the crime by Richard Rueter, 23, a University of Nebraska College of Agriculture student. Rueter provided officers with a description, they said.

Bojo The Notorious Spitting Chimp Sold From City Zoo

Bojo, who came to Antelope Park Zoo as a lovable 6-month-old baby chimpanzee, has left his home of nearly 9 years.

Park Supt. James Ager Friday said Bojo has been sold to find a new home in a larger zoo.

"He was becoming too big, cantankerous and destructive for his cage," explained Ager.

"Bojo was knocking off cement plaster and his reputation for accurate spitting was notorious."

Tamba, an 8½-year-old female chimp who Ager says "is still a lady," will remain to greet children and other zoo visitors.

Proceeds from Bojo's sale will be used to acquire a new baby chimp or some other animal, according to Ager.

'Teahouse' Performance Delights Capacity Audience

By SUSAN STANLEY
Star Staff Writer

"Teahouse of the August Moon" delighted a capacity audience for a number of reasons in its opening performance last night.

Outstanding among these reasons were Sylvia Ashby and Richard C. Spicer.

Mrs. Ashby, playing a wrinkled pickle, Miss Higa Jiga, was perfection itself. In makeup (she performed for nearly 3 hours with apple slices in her cheeks), costume, expression, and in being constantly "on stage" (the mark of a professional), she created a warm and funny person in this drama of the attempt by the U.S. Army in post World War II Okinawa to "orient the oriental."

'Leered, Grinned'

Spicer, as an Army psychiatrist with a latent desire to be a horticulturalist, leered, sneered, and grinned his way into his place as audience favorite. His entrance scene was the high point of the show.

Jerry Mayer, as Sakini, was outstanding, alternating between qualities of an irritating insect and benevolent goodwill toward men. Although he never broke character even when making a blunder, he occasionally made the audience aware that he was acting.

William J. Mondary, as the mild Capt. Fisby, although generally good, seemed erratic in his portrayal, ranging from his first entrance with a burst of bravado, which seemed unfitting, to a few occasions when he underplayed. Particularly fine in his acting was a strain of gentle humor.

'Ineffable Grace'

Buffie Carpenter, who worked pure magic last spring in the Playhouse's "Glass Menagerie," showed ineffable grace of hand and body as Lotus Blossom, the geisha girl.

The sets were designed with imagination and flair by Le-Roi Schoonover. These included a plywood jeep, a full-scale teahouse, offices, outdoor scenes, all skillfully constructed to be changed with the aid of a set of sliding screens.

A great deal of the success of a community theater production depends, of course, on the director. Newcomer Roland Reed proved himself a peer of the last director, Bonna Tebo Hayes, in many ways—particularly in eliciting fine performances from a cast with varying levels of experience.

Halt To Cuban Arms Buildup Advocated

Tower Claims JFK Trying To 'Nationalize' Agriculture

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Grand Island—Sen. John Tower Friday called for prompt U.S. action to halt the communist arms buildup in Cuba. "The longer we wait, the stronger they will get," the Texas Republican warned.

Progress Of Ag Research Is Defended

... By Finigan

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
Grand Island — "The rate of progress" made by the State Department of Agriculture in agricultural research was defended Friday.

At the national cornpicking contest, Pearl Finigan, director of agriculture, said, "We have no changes in our immediate sights."

His remarks were prompted by Republican gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton's pledge to "strengthen and accelerate" the state's research program.

Finigan also took issue with Seaton's claim that if he were elected, he would "make much more use of the research facilities and research genius of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture."

"We are using the university as much as possible in this area," Finigan said, noting that 40% of his department's research money goes to NU.

He also said the university is working with the department on 8 different projects.

"The reason we contract so many of our projects out of the state is simple," he said. "We just don't have the specialists to develop such projects."

Such projects, he claimed, require expert and tested guidance.

"To expand the facilities at the university would result in large expenditures for buildings and laboratories," Finigan claimed. "We still would not have the specialists."

He also took a poke at the GOP nominee's performance as a member of the Resources Foundation Committee which is within the agriculture department.

"Since Gov. Morrison appointed him to the committee over a year ago," Finigan related, "Seaton has never been in our office."

Good Listeners Needed, County Assessors Told

Omaha (P) — State Tax Commissioner Forrest A. Johnson gave county tax assessors a little advice on conduct when he addressed their 59th annual meeting.

He urged the assessors to "be good listeners," watch personal appearances and maintain cordial relations with the press.

Assessors, he said, are salesmen whose wares include their counties, their offices and themselves.

Hruska To Sidney

Sidney (P) — Senator Roman Hruska will visit Sidney Thursday, Oct. 25, according to word received by Cheyenne County Republican Chairman Ed Narjes. Arrangements are now under way for a luncheon meeting.

"I hope we aren't going to wait around until missiles are aimed at Miami and Cape Canaveral and Houston."

Tower spoke to a farm crowd of about 2,000, part of the sprawling mob which was spread over the national cornpicking contest site northeast of here.

In agriculture, the Texan suggested that "what we need is less government regimentation."

Tower charged that the Kennedy administration is attempting to "nationalize" agriculture, that its philosophy would "destroy free enterprise and set up a planned economy."

Government policies, he declared, created the present farm problem.

"I look forward to the day when you are free," Tower told the farm families.

All-GOP Cast
The Texan headed an all-Republican cast which held the afternoon spotlight. Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, and Rep. Dave Martin were introduced to the crowd.

Tower was presented by gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton.

Democrats were unrepresented on the day's program. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's scheduled morning appearance was filled by 3 Swiss yodelers.

Tower told his audience he was sorry Freeman could not attend.

"I looked forward to it," the senator quipped. "I wanted to hear somebody say something good about the farm program."

That program, he said, would "regiment the farmer and reduce him to a state of total subordination."

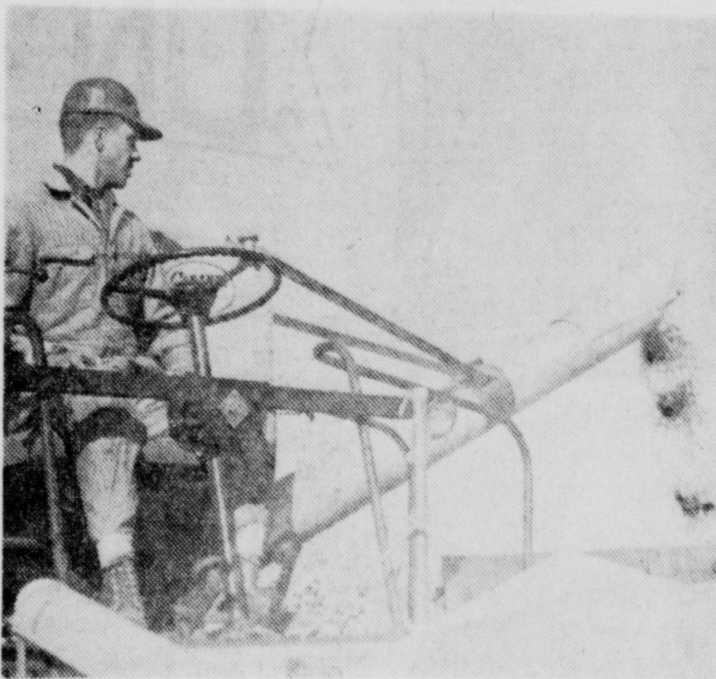

Freak Accident Injures 2 Safety Patrol Youths

Omaha (P) — Two safety patrol boys were injured in a freak accident near the Ashland Park School, while at their posts.

William J. Rytch, 12, was reported in satisfactory condition in a hospital Friday with a broken left leg, cuts and bruises. His companion, Dean A. Ayala, 12, was treated for a back injury and released.

Police said the two boys were on duty when an unattended station wagon rolled backward across the street, brushing Dean. William was carried out into the street.

The owner of the unattended station wagon, Robert A. Lanoha, 32, was booked for investigation and released.

Years Bring Progress In Cornpicking Methods

Highest scorer in the national cornpicking contest was Lawrence W. Fisher of Palmyra, Mich., shown at left, 23-year-old contestant who is also a tractor pulling winner. He chalked up a score of 97.53 points, one of the highest ever recorded. His modern-day cornpicking equipment, cutting down considerably on the cornpicking season, contrasts with the hand picking methods demonstrated Friday at right by Sherm Hendricksen of Route 7 Lincoln, who won the national hand picking championship in 1933.

Rev. Morrissey $1,000 Short On His Radio Fund short of the $10,000 he had hoped to raise for a radio station to help educate natives and fight communism.

Father Morrissey, an Omaha native, had returned to Omaha on an emergency furlough in an attempt to raise the funds under the banner of "operation help." As of Friday the total of contributions stood at $8,924.78.

Mum Day Set Sunday At NU

Chrysanthemums, adapted for southeast Nebraska conditions, will be featured at the University of Nebraska's "Mum Day" from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Flower fans attending the event are requested to enter the College of Agriculture from Holdrege Street at 37th Street. This route will take visitors directly to the mum plantings.

If the weather is good, several thousand persons are expected to view the 300 different varieties on display in approximately a half-acre of experimental plots. People from as far away as Wyoming have shown interest in this year's display. University departmental staff members will be on hand to answer questions that may arise about the mums, according to Wayne Whitney, University Extension horticulturist.

When approaching Roper & Sons East "O" Mortuary from the West turn North on 44th street and enter our spacious parking lot which will accommodate more than 100 cars.

Retiring Rising City Physician Satisfied With Country Choice

Rising City — A physician who has spent nearly 43 years caring for the medical needs of the Rising City community, Dr. O. E. Longacre, was honored by residents of this community at a gathering at the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Longacre will leave Oct. 15 to make his home at the Soldiers and Sailors Home in Grand Island.

In a brief talk, Dr. Longacre noted that he had come to Rising City in January, 1920, and had experienced the "ups and downs" in the community along with other residents. He said he was well satisfied with the life of a country doctor living in a small town.

An untold number of the estimated 2,000 babies he has delivered during his years of practice here, were in the audience honoring the retiring physician.

Dr. Longacre is a native of Dodge County, moving to Lincoln in 1899. During the Philippine insurrection he served two years in the armed forces.

After attending the University of Nebraska and University of Maryland, he began the practice of medicine in Loup City, where he remained for 10 years. During World War I he served with the armed forces for 2½ years.

$30,000 Damage Suit Is Settled

Omaha (P) — A $30,000 damage suit as a result of a man being gored by a bull has been settled before a Federal District Court jury trial could get under way.

The man, Harris L. Evers, Council Bluffs, Ia., claimed he was gored when he attempted to capture a bull after it escaped from a Missouri Pacific Railroad enclosure April 20, 1961.

Install Omaha As Nurses' Head

Omaha (P) — Dorothy Dixon of Omaha was installed as president of the Nebraska State Nurses Association wound up its convention.

Other officers include: Mrs. Ruby McArthur of Lincoln, first vice president; Mrs. Shirley DeMott of Scottsbluff, treasurer; Rachel Baker of North Platte, second vice president; and Ann M. Neville of Grand Island, secretary.

Mrs. Jean Doty of Omaha was honored as 1962 Nebraska nurse of the year. She is a school nurse in the Omaha public school system.

One Dead As Auto Shears Power Pole

Sidney (P) — One man was killed and another injured when a Wisconsin car left U.S. Highway 30 and sheared off a power pole 3 miles east of Sidney Friday.

The dead man was identified as Ralph B. Johnson, 63, of Racine, Wis. Injured was Louis Summers, 68, Union Grove, Wis.

Sheriff W. W. Schulz said Summers was the driver of the car. He said the two had been driving from Las Vegas, Nev., which they left Thursday night, and that Summers evidently fell asleep at the wheel.

The death was the 295th Nebraska traffic fatality of the year compared with 255 a year ago.

Equipment Kills Laurel Worker

Laurel (P) — A construction worker was killed Friday while operating a piece of heavy construction equipment on a highway project between Coleridge and Belden.

The victim was 34-year-old Merlyn Le Roy Steffy of Laurel. The State Safety Patrol said the piece of equipment Steffy was operating overturned on him.

The road was closed for construction at the time and therefore the death is not considered a highway fatality. Steffy is survived by his wife and two children. Funeral and burial will be Tuesday in Orleans.

Newhouse Offer Is Confirmed

No Action Taken By Herald Board

Omaha (P) — Samuel I. Newhouse offered to buy the Omaha World-Herald Friday, but directors adjourned a special meeting without taking action on the offer.

A brief announcement carried in afternoon editions said the offer would be given further consideration at a later date.

The financial terms of the Newhouse offer were not made public, but the Wall Street Journal said earlier that Newhouse offered about $40 million for the World Publishing Company, which owns the World-Herald, television station KETV, and an Omaha medical building (the Doctors' Building).

The World-Herald, founded in 1885, has been Omaha's only daily newspaper since 1937.

Newhouse already owns 18 newspapers reaching from New York to Oregon and through the South. He also owns a majority interest in 4 other newspapers, 5 television and radio stations.

In June he added the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the New Orleans States-Item to his holdings at a cost of $41 million.

The World-Herald's brief announcement said:

"Directors of the World Publishing company announced at noon Friday that they have received an offer for the purchase of the World-Herald from Samuel I. Newhouse of New York.

"The offer was not accepted at Friday's meeting, but the meeting was adjourned to reconvene at a later date, at which time further consideration will be given to it.

"Financial terms of Mr. Newhouse's offer were not revealed by the board. According to W. Dale Clark, chairman of the board of the publishing company, Mr. Newhouse's proposal contemplates that the present board of directors, officers, management and employees would continue to serve the newspaper."

Finigan A Factor

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Two political items of interest took place at the state and national cornpicking contests at Grand Island the end of this week. Both candidates for governor spoke to sparse crowds and little reaction from the listeners was noted. This is somewhat typical of the campaign for governor up to this point. Neither candidate has been very impressive, speaking in generalities and avoiding the fundamental question of the day. That question is taxation and general financing but Gov. Frank Morrison and GOP challenger Fred Seaton treat it as a contagious disease.

It seems to be the guess of most experts that Morrison began this race with a decided edge but that Seaton started closing the gap about two or three weeks ago. The prevailing opinion today is that the race could easily go either way — it is not a toss-up. It is quite possible that Seaton, too, has now lost his momentum and the final outcome is in the hands of a few still undecided voters. To date, Morrison has not waged much of any campaign, simply carrying on as governor as he has done for the past two years. But just being governor calls for much traveling of the state and appearing before groups, which are two elements of any campaign.

What the governor has not done is campaign in terms of presenting issues. He wants to stand on his record, which is fine, but gives no projection of the future. Presumably, if he is elected, we can expect no more or less than we have had in the past two years. Thus, his election would give us nothing new to look forward to.

The cornpicking meeting also pointed out another element of the election — the element of an individual in the person of Agricultural Department Director Pearle Finigan. Seaton was asked as he walked from the speakers' platform whom he would appoint director of agriculture if he were elected governor.

His answer was typical of the campaign to date — he straddled the fence. In this case, however, it was only good politics to straddle the fence. Any governor of Nebraska, regardless of his party affiliation, would find Pearle Finigan a real asset. It would not be at all surprising if Governor Morrison picked up a good chunk of votes on the strength of Mr. Finigan alone — votes from people who believe Finigan as head of the agricultural department is more important than either Morrison or Seaton as governor. Every now and then there is a person in public life who does such an outstanding job and is possessed of such fine personal qualities that he doesn't fit into a partisan play of politics. Dan Jones, head of the water resources division of the state, has been such a man. Jones has done a fine job in his department and has survived without any fanfare both Republican and Democratic state administrations. It is a tribute both to his ability and his lack of partisanship when it comes to carrying out his responsibility. Finigan could well be the same kind of person. Actually, his operation of his department has been even more successful and dynamic than has Jones in administering the affairs of the water resources division. Finigan came into office under the late Gov. Ralph Brooks. He tackled an entirely new program of agricultural research and has turned it into a highly successful program. The operation has drawn national attention to the state as well as greatly broadening the economic opportunity of Nebraska farmers.

And Finigan has actually made this progress while cutting down the administrative expenses of his office, while saving the taxpayers money. On top of all this, he has survived a really bloody split in the Democratic party. As a friend, booster and appointee of Brooks, he was naturally associated with Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha.

This should have been automatic grounds for replacement by Morrison who can hardly stand the sound of Mr. Boyle's name. But Finigan did not go, was not replaced, because it was evident to Morrison that the agricultural director's allegiance was to the state of Nebraska and the program that the agricultural department was attempting to put across.

In the two years that Morrison has been in office, Mr. Finigan has served under the office of governor with loyalty and diligence equal to that he showed Mr. Brooks. If Seaton should be elected, he would be expected to make some changes in Statehouse personnel but he would be wise and would be helping the state tremendously if he retained Finigan as director of agriculture. Seaton noted that he did not know how Finigan felt about any such possible situation and this is true. Perhaps Finigan would not want to serve under Seaton, for whatever his reasons might be, but he should be given the opportunity if it ever came to that.

Rumor is that Finigan is scheduled for a high position in the agricultural department of the federal government if Morrison should be defeated. This would certainly be a feather in the federal government's cap but it would be a real loss to Nebraska. A great many Nebraska farmers are probably thinking about the same thing, which explains the question asked Seaton about the state agricultural director.

Undivided Loyalty

We Are Not Proud

It is with a feeling of sorrow that we report a serious piece of faith breaking on the part of the United States.

This country made a solemn treaty with the Seneca Indians in 1794 which in return for valuable tribal concessions the government promised never to disturb that nation in its final land reserve in upper New York. This treaty remained inviolate 169 years. The Senecas contented themselves on their land and lived tranquil and useful lives. Then downstream interests on the Alleghany river demanded flood control. The Kinuza dam was projected. Its backwater would flood 650 acres of the Seneca heartland, displace 132 families and separate the tribe. The Supreme Court sustained the treaty. But the dam is being built and the Senecas are being hurt.

The New York Times commented "there is no reason to believe that the Senecas will be adequately resettled." The Pennsylvania Railroad has already received $20 million for moving its tracks. But the displaced Senecas must start building new homes next spring and they will not know what indemnity they will receive for another two years. Moreover, they do not even know where the new roads are to be built. The whole matter of resettlement is of last consideration, although it is recognized that, besides housing, the tribe will need a master plan for a substitute livelihood.

Public opinion may in the end demand suitable action in behalf of this poorly treated minority. But we do not know of any way in which an enlightened nation can repair its own broken faith.

Colorado Controversy

As if a collapsed football department were not enough, the University of Colorado is now embroiled in another harsh controversy, this time on the high intellectual side.

It has a bright young philosophy student who has been taking pen in hand. The young man made an extravagant attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater primarily, President Kennedy and Former President Dwight Eisenhower, incidentally. The student newspaper permitted the excesses. The university administration defended the right of free discussion. The tension is becoming electric.

It is difficult for a university to withstand an outraged public even if it is not a majority, and the pressure has been forceful enough to require a thorough and comprehensive study of all the university publications. This could result in the most grievous error of all, a censored press.

There are few campuses which have not at one time or another felt the jar of excessive student expression, but most of them are soon forgotten and not seriously harmful.

It is the duty of an enlightened university administration to protect freedom of inquiry and expression, and on that position Colorado University must be supported. But it is still in error. It is not an infringement on freedom of speech to suppress bad taste. Rather it is an editorial duty which in this case was not exercised. The student writer was certainly guilty of it and by being guilty he was not only offensive to the public but the destroyer of his own argument.

Editorial Of The Day

Tito And Khrushchev

From The New York Times
President Tito and Premier Khrushchev, two pragmatic Communists, have once again demonstrated how they can co-exist without settling the fundamental problems that divide them. The formula seems to be: follow parallel paths toward those objectives on which we, as Marxists, can agree, and let us not quarrel too much about our disagreements.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, the nominal President of the Soviet Union, departed after a 10-day visit to Yugoslavia with a sheaf of generalities that did not commit Tito to anything. But in exchange the Yugoslav President extracted a very substantial commitment from Khrushchev's emissary, a reaffirmation of the validity of the Soviet Premier's 1955 pledge that different forms of "socialist" development are the exclusive prerogative of each country. Khrushchev accepted the fact that Yugoslavia intends to continue her own road to socialism because he cannot do anything to prevent this.

It is no secret that responsible Soviet officials are prepared to acknowledge in private their admiration for Tito's political dynamism in international affairs. This explains Khrushchev's readiness to seek Tito's cooperation against colonialism, the European Common Market and other issues on which Marxists of all brands can agree. For the Soviet Premier this is simply sound power politics.

It costs Tito nothing to vote as Khrushchev does on these matters because he would do so for his own account in any case, and it is interesting to note that the Yugoslav President has consistently refused to go along with the Soviet Premier on issues that would cost him something.

Waiting For The Other Shoe

DREW PEARSON

Segregation Easy Here, Hard There

DOWN IN DIXIE — Only a river divides parts of Mississippi and Louisiana, but there's a lot of difference between the two when it comes to education and integration. . . . Louisiana State desegregated even before the Supreme Court decision of 1954, but abolished integration after the Supreme Court ruling, now has gone back to it. About 20 Negroes are in LSU classes. Paradoxically, they can sit anywhere in class or in convocations, but Negroes from near-by Southern University have to sit in segregated sections — when they visit LSU. . . . further South, at Hammond, South-eastern Louisiana college has 23 Negroes in its classes. No problems. . . . Louisiana colleges do have other problems, largely from the rambunctious state legislature and do-nothing, banjo-strumming Gov. Jimmy Davis. Students are on the increase, budgets on the decrease. . . . LSU expected 700 new students this year, got 1,200. Simultaneously, the legislature cut back the budget, froze salary increases. This means some of the top professors may move. . . . one of the most challenging courses at South-eastern Louisiana College is taught by Dr. Sidney Romero on communism — a course required by state law. Instead of inviting a top communist to give the other side of communism, as the University of Oregon invited Gus Hall, head of the U.S. Communist party, Dr. Romero poses — for classroom purposes — as a communist and tells their story. Some students are jolted by the fact that Russia has a one-party system, as do the Democrats in the South.

Across the river at Oxford, "Ole Miss" has had a record of trouble. Rootin' tootin' Gov. Theodore Bilbo, an archsegregationist, began putting his cronies into high position long before integration was a gleam in a Supreme Court justice's eye. . . . in 1956-'57 some professors left when right wing students started making tape recordings of their lectures; claimed that profs who explained social reforms were communists. . . . later came attempts at integration. James H. Meredith is not the first Negro to make the try. First was a minister from the Gulf Coast who tried to matriculate around 1953. Next day he disappeared, was found dead of a heart attack. . . . next integrator was a Negro professor who rode on a bus up to Oxford. He didn't know that on the bus were state troopers in civilian clothes. He also disappeared, was found in the Whitfield, Miss., mental hospital. . . . "Ole Miss" was founded in 1848 when Albert Gallatin Brown was governor. A friend of Confederate President Jeff Davis, Brown at first thought Davis was too soft on Negroes but ended up by urging that Mississippi accept integration. . . . no county in Mississippi is now named for him. . . .

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Nobody asked, but we think that:

—the Democratic party should have given its nominees for state and national office financial support by now. Perhaps they will receive some aid Sunday after the state central committee meets — but there are now only 3 weeks to go before the election.

—the crowd which turned out to greet former President Eisenhower at the Omaha airport last Wednesday was woefully small. We wonder if the Douglas County GOP organization is doing its job very well.

—the 2 to 1 margin of approval for the Lincoln public schools bond issue was the best news Capital City voters have distributed in a long, long time. Lincolinites were beginning to sound like Russians at a disarmament conference.

—the Nebraska Public Power Committee's failure to reach agreement on generation and transmission problems ought to spur the 1963 Legislature into some concrete and constructive action in the field of public power.

—those who call for an immediate U.S. invasion of Cuba haven't got the guts to fight and win the long cold war.

—the Freeman snafu at the national cornpicking contest lost the Democrats some farmer friends and cost Freeman himself in terms of prestige. Whether he was to blame or not, it has been made to appear that he is at fault. What is accepted as the truth is often what seems to be the truth.

—Bob Devaney is likely to be a write-in threat to Frank Morrison and Fred Seaton if the Huskers can keep it up.

—autumn in Nebraska is hard to beat. The drive from Lincoln to Grand Island this week for the cornpicking doings was a colorful treat. The trees are dressed in yellow brilliance and truckloads of golden corn dot the highways. But contrary to Peanuts (that's in a different newspaper), we still can't find a leaf with a parachute.

—this rambling has gone on too long.

Let's talk for a minute about foreign aid.

Everyone is against it—but it is crucially important to this nation's defense and an invaluable weapon in our cold war arsenal.

What we spend in foreign economic aid is spent to help prevent the expenditure of American blood.

It worked in Greece and Turkey; through the Marshall Plan, it lifted war-torn Western Europe onto its feet, creating prosperity which the continent had never known before, strengthening our Western allies as a buffer against the Communist East and presenting them as an example which the Reds must envy.

So, why should it not work in Latin America, in Asia and in Africa where the balance of power may ultimately lie?

So, you say it won't buy friends. This, it is not intended to do.

It is designed to build strong and independent nations which will not lie easy prey for communist exploitation. It destroys the hunger, the poverty, the disease upon which communism breeds.

If we were to allow nations to wallow in weakness, they will fall to the Reds. Then, we may have to win them back with arms. We may have to purchase their allegiance with blood.

It is easy to say that foreign aid is wasteful.

It is easy to hold out to you the promise of great savings if we abandon it.

It is easy to suggest that our foreign aid programs have failed, that they have not produced results favorable to us, that they have lost us more friends than we have gained.

But easy and truthful are not synonyms.

Highway Marking

Lincoln, Neb.
I do not venture out onto Nebraska highways any more than is necessary these days. The grim and ever mounting statistics of automobile deaths have regrettably done much to dim the pure driving pleasure of an earlier day.

However, recently I did drive across the state on a business trip and noted an innovation by the highway maintenance crews on which I think they should be commended. On curves, approaches to bridges and other stretches where closer attention is warranted, the highway edges have been painted white. This is of great value to the driver in determining his relative position both to the edge of the highway and to traffic on his other side. And especially is it of help during night-time driving hours.

I have heard several drivers speak about this, and express appreciation.

Certainly as well advised and well posted and aided in all ways possible as the driving public is, the initial responsibility must be theirs in the matter of safety. Common sense must be the prime ingredient.

Plugging Favorites

Hastings, Neb.
Former President Eisenhower makes himself look very asinine by coming into Nebraska to urge Nebraskans to elect a Republican governor of Nebraska in 1962. Mr. Eisenhower just cannot stand to think that Nebraska has a Democratic governor.

Frank Morrison, while most other state officials are Republicans. And Mr. Eisenhower has no objection to Republicans filling all state offices and making Nebraska politically a one-party state.

But Ike is very much disturbed because President Kennedy wants more Democrats elected to the 88th Congress this November. Ike says that would make America politically a one-party system! It happens, however, that President Kennedy has not advocated that all Democratic congressional candidates be elected to every seat available in the 1962 election. So it is very clear that former President Eisenhower is more in favor of a one-party system than is President Kennedy.

Of course, the idea that a president and a former president and members of the 87th Congress have to go to states other than their own to urge voters to support a candidate makes the so-called "free elections" a great farce in America.

It is too bad that Mr. Eisenhower did not persuade Fred Seaton to move to Pennsylvania so that Ike could help elect him as governor of Pennsylvania. I am sure that Nebraskans in general would have been delighted with such an arrangement.

Perhaps someone should tell Ike that during 20 years of continued Republican administrations in Nebraska, the State Highway employees did not get one paid holiday. But shortly after the election of a Democrat, the late Ralph Brooks, as governor of Nebraska, the State Highway employees were given paid holidays along with the others.

As America continues on the journey into New Frontiers of the 1960's, I suggest that the President, former presidents and members of Congress during this decade keep their noses out of the political affairs of other states, and by doing so they will have taken America on a long step toward new frontiers in the political field.

Seaton History

Lincoln, Neb.
It was during the depression, the drought-ridden and flood-torn era in the 1930's, that an enthusiastic young man came to Nebraska. He had made good in the political field in Kansas. In 1936 he served as secretary to Governor Alf Landon in his campaign for the presidency.

Fred Seaton, with his father and brother, thoroughly investigated Hastings and the Nebraska region before deciding to make their investment in Nebraska. They were so well impressed with what Nebraska had to offer that on June 30, 1937, they took over the Hastings Tribune. Fred became publisher and general manager in charge of the Tribune operations. In the first issue on July 1, he made the following statement:

"It is our hope to be granted the right to mingle among you as a friend and to work shoulder to shoulder with you in a constant striving for a better city, a better state and increased prosperity and happiness to all."

A few days after Fred came to Hastings, we called on him. When we questioned him as to what prompted him to locate there, he replied: "We can envision the great possibilities that Nebraska, its fine people and the favorable climate have. It has an abundant supply of surface and ground water and above all, fine soil. If we could only stop or reduce the ravages of the hot winds, arrest the destruction of her floods and conserve her rich soil, we will have a much more productive state."

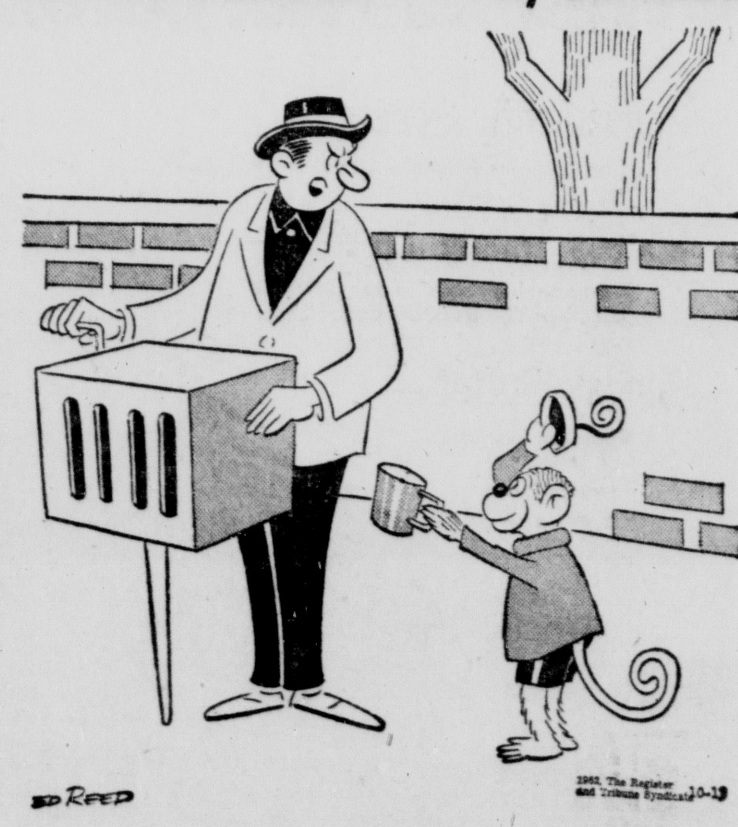

It has been my good fortune to know and work with Fred Seaton all these years, first as a publisher of the Hastings Tribune and then as a loyal worker in every organization or group working for a better Nebraska.

I have observed him as state senator and as a United States senator. His record in Washington, D.C. and the five years he served as secretary of interior were years of a test for any man. It was because of this knowledge of the problems that he was able to make an enviable record, particularly in water, soil conservation, flood control, power and irrigation development and education.

Former President Eisen-

Social Security Before 62 Considered Unwise

By ROBERT PETERSON
When the age at which both men and women could apply for social security benefits was lowered to 62, this column predicted it wouldn't be long till there was a campaign afoot to reduce it further.
Sure enough, the campaign has been launched with the formation of "Sixty Now," a non-profit organization with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, which is reputed to have 15,000 members already.
Not only is this group crusading to reduce the social security eligibility age to 60, but they want benefits raised to a uniform $200 a month.
Many of us want to see elders get all the breaks possible. But something-for-nothing movements of this kind, which are a throwback to the Townsend Plan, aren't sound. With people reaching old age in better health than ever before, we should be advancing, rather than reducing, the age of retirement.

Although proponents argue that the plan will ease our unemployment problems, they seem unaware of the economic losses in labor skills which early retirement incurs.
They also seem unaware that work is a healthy, wholesome and noble pursuit, and that elders who continue working stand a much better chance of retaining their physical and mental well-being than those who retire early and become potential victims of listlessness and inactivity.
While waiting for a plane at the airport recently I fell into conversation with an older woman from California who volunteered that her husband was retired from construction work. When I asked if he had any trouble keeping busy she said, "He had a terrible time between 65 and 70—just sat at home and wouldn't go anywhere."

"But then my church began planning a new addition and needed someone to take charge who knew the construction business. When the minister heard about my husband he began wheeling him to head the committee—even though he never went to church."
"My husband finally gave in and you've never seen such a transformation. He became friends with other men on the committee and worked 8 and 10 hours a day. The church figures it saved at least $20,000 from the work he did and gave a big dinner in his honor. He's joined the church now, has been made head of permanent maintenance committee, and never misses services."

Great story. Churches everywhere should awaken to elder potentialities. Unfortunately, many ministers, priests, and rabbis are so youth-oriented that they merely nod to the old-timers. They don't bother to plan special events for elders or coax them to perform useful tasks.
But elders may be in even greater need of the church—and more capable of infusing fresh vigor into projects and services—than younger members of the flock.

Pair Sentenced To Reformatory

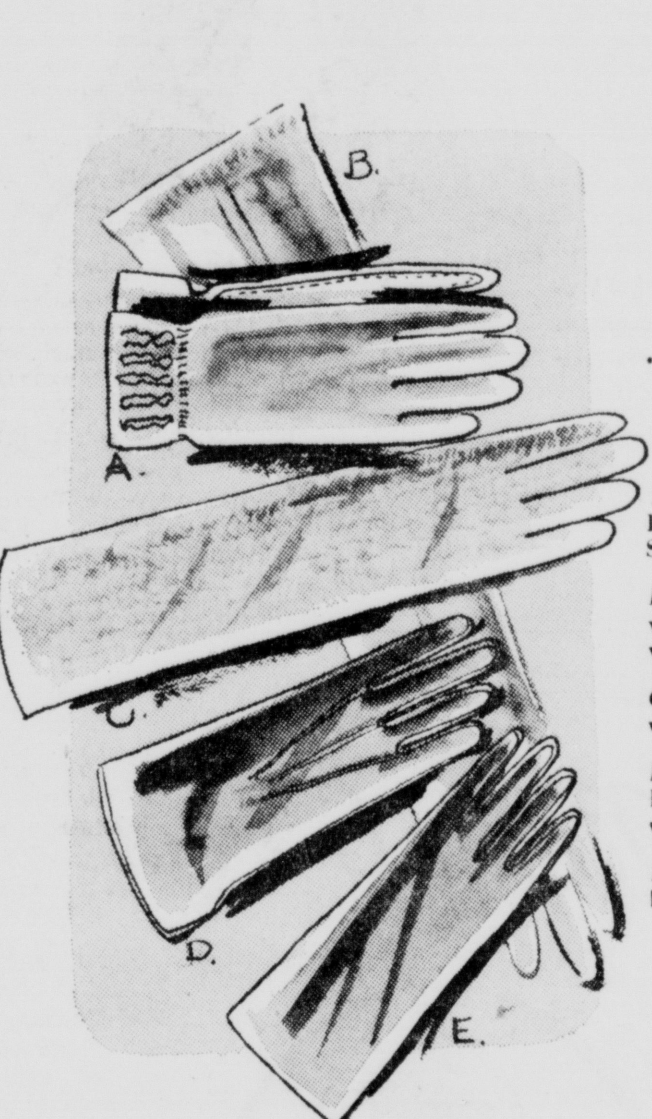

Hastings (P)—Two Hastings men were sentenced to terms of 3 to 5 years in the Men's Reformatory and sentencing of a 3rd was postponed pending a pre-sentence investigation.
All 3 had pleaded guilty in District Court to grand larceny charges in connection with thefts from rural Adams County homes and from the county maintenance shop. Sentenced by District Judge Edmund Nuss were Marion D. Kelley and John A. Price. Sentence was deferred for Richard A. Parsons. They were arrested in McCook on warrants issued in Hastings.

Ask Funds For Spiritual U.N.

New York (UPI)—Sir Muhammad Zafrulla Khan, president of the U.N. General Assembly, opened a $5 million fund raising drive Friday night to build "a spiritual United Nations" near Washington, D.C.
Khan, at a fund-raising dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria attended by international religious leaders and U.N. diplomats, said the project would be called the Temple of Understanding and would be dedicated to "the fundamental that there is one creator of the universe."
"This fundamental is the one hope for the salvation of mankind in the nuclear age," Khan said. "On this there need be no deviation between men and women of faith. The Temple of Understanding can serve the purpose of bringing mankind together on the basis of this fundamental."
Khan, a Moslem, is a member of a distinguished board of directors including Islamic, Christian, Buddhist, Hindu, Jewish and Confucian leaders who are planning to build the Temple of Understanding on a 50-acre plot in Maryland donated by an unidentified Potomac, Md., philanthropist. He said the board hopes to raise $1 million in dollar contributions in the next year toward the $3 million temple and a $2 million endowment fund.
Architects Philip Johnson and Lathrop Douglass have designed the temple, a building shaped like a 6-pointed star, to house 6 chapels devoted to the world's major religions together with libraries on each faith, reading rooms and lecture halls.
The purpose will be to educate visitors in the symbols and rituals of the religions with emphasis on their unity in the belief in one creator.

Governor Lauds State's 'Remarkable' New Film

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday described the State Game Commission's new tourist film as a "remarkable presentation of Nebraska."

He made the comment after attending a sneak preview of the new film which will be premiered next Friday at the State Capitol.

The 27½-minute, sound-and-color film, "Nebraskaland, Where the West Begins," was filmed over a two-year period by Game Commission photographers, Gene Hornbeck and Lou Ell.

"Half-Hour Panorama"

"It has taken me many years to see all of Nebraska," Morrison said, "but within a half hour the viewer gets a panorama of the state in all its brilliance."

Game Commission Director Mel Steen said the film shows every corner of Nebraska with a broad array of attractions — scenic, historic, cultural and recreational.

"The film paints Nebraska in beautiful sunset and landscapes, rodeos and pow wows, wilderness streams and bustling cities, duck blinds and outboard — all come alive."

"It is a wonderful sampling of what the viewer and his family can see and do in person during their next vacation," Steen said.

The movie has about 300 different scenes and features with a lot of actual sounds recorded in the field. Approximately 8,000 feet of film were shot for the movie and about 1,000 feet selected for the completed film.

"Special thanks go to Ak-Sar-Ben, Izaak Walton League and the Nebraskaland Foundation for contributing funds in the final phases of filming to assure top-notch production," Steen said.

Film-editing and production was done by Clover-Thompson Films of Kansas City, Mo. Hal Clover, president of the firm, said the "film creates an image of Nebraska beyond anything I ever thought personally, and I am sure there will be a few surprises for Nebraskans as well."

Crete Corner Crash Kills Martell Boy

A 6-year-old Martell boy died as a result of a one-car accident near the Crete Corner, on Neb. Hwy. 33 Thursday, the Nebraska Safety Patrol confirmed Friday.

The boy, Robert Obermeyer, was dead on arrival at the Crete Municipal Hospital, where he was taken after receiving emergency treatment at a Nike missile site near the accident scene.

Robert was one of 3 passengers in a car driven by his sister, Joyce, 17. The car went out of control and turned over in a ditch.

Other passengers in the car were Charlene, 14, another sister, and Warren Frohn, 14, also of Martell. Joyce, Charlene and Warren all suffered bruises.

Someone from the missile site passed by and took all 4 to the site for treatment. No one informed the Safety Patrol, however.

First word of the fatality came from a cousin of the dead boy, Mrs. George Rotschafer of Lincoln. She called a local radio station and asked why a report had not been broadcasted. That station then called the patrol which was still unaware of the accident.

O'Kelly Says 'Innocent' Of Girl's Death

Dennis O'Kelly, charged with second degree murder in connection with the Aug. 4 slaying of 19-year-old Barbara Eastman, pleaded innocent to the charge in Lancaster District Court Friday.

District Judge Elmer Scheele set trial for the 21-year-old bricklayer for the next jury term beginning Nov. 5.

A motion to suppress evidence obtained in the case by County Atty. Paul Douglas, made by O'Kelly's court-appointed attorney, Richard Vestecka, was overruled by Judge Scheele.

Vestecka also asked Douglas to file the list of the state's witnesses by next Tuesday. Douglas agreed.

According to Douglas, O'Kelly, who had been dating Miss Eastman, admitted hitting her with a blunt instrument and disposing of her body in Oak Lake.

Bond Sent To Reformatory In Car Homicide

Lloyd Bond, charged with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the July 18 death of Mrs. Frances Burke, was sentenced to 1-2 years in the Men's Reformatory Friday by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele.

Bond, 37, of 2766 So. 36th, had pleaded nolo contendere to the charge Sept. 25, and Scheele found him guilty.

Mrs. Burke, 49, of 2120 O, died of injuries received in the car-truck collision at 14th & Cornhusker. She was a passenger in a car driven by Bond which collided with a truck driven by Darrell Winchester, 42, of 7301 Logan.

Callan Pokes Sen. Tower's Contest 'Corn'

"All of the corn at the National Cornpicking Contest was not in the field," Democratic First Congressional District candidate Clair Callan commented Friday night with a poke at Sen. John Tower, Texas Republican who spoke at the contest earlier. "The Tower of Texas, spokesman of the Texas oil interests, today told the Nebraska farmer that he is being driven to destruction by the farm programs of the past two years," Callan said. "Mr. Tower expressed a desire to hear 'something good' about the farm program. Nebraska farmers emphatically said 'something good' in May 1961 with a sign-up of nearly 75% in the feed grain program. They did it again emphatically in 1962. 'Income Up 20%' "The increase of 20% in farm income in 1961 confirmed the judgment of these farmers in signing up," Callan declared. "Either Sen. Tower doesn't know what is going on in agriculture, or he chooses to ignore it," the Democratic candidate averred. The "plain facts" are that the feed grain program has "increased farm income in Nebraska 20%, reduced the surpluses, and reduced government costs a half billion dollars nationally," he continued.

Officers of the Lincoln Building Trades Council and representatives of 3 trade union locals called upon Lipert Bros. Co. and will meet with all Lincoln contractors. The group will also conduct on-the-job inspections. The committee was critical of the lack of personnel in the State Department of Labor, claiming department safety regulations could not be adequately enforced. Precautionary Measures Emphasis will be placed by the committee on these precautionary measures: 1. Safety tubes for railing around all elevated open areas. 2. On-the-job safety meetings once a week. 3. Availability of safety belts. 4. Policing of construction sites to eliminate the hazard of waste materials lying about. 5. Releasing of plywood sheets with wire safety strings. 6. Use of safety chains on outriggers. 7. Dismissal of any employee found violating the safety rules.

the entire issue be sold immediately. Bond money not immediately needed for the school expansion program would be re-invested to help offset interest charges. The 20-year bonds will be sold to the buyer offering the lowest interest rate, but not to exceed an average rate of 4 1/2%.

Meeting Postponed The board postponed its regular Nov. 13 meeting until the following day at 8:30 a.m., before the board opens bond bids at 10 a.m. Supt. Stever Watkins said classroom additions and new schools to be financed by the bond issue needing priority attention include Belmont, Calvert, Capitol, Lakeview, Saratoga, West Lincoln, Meadow Lane and new schools at 33rd and Calvert and 40th and Adams. Board members, sitting as an election canvassing board, certified the count of 141 absentee ballots as 92 in favor on the bond issue and 49 against. This raised the unofficial approving vote total to 13,960 against 6,364. The board must meet again Monday to canvass the votes by precincts. A recheck showed Precinct 2A voted for the bond issue by more than 55%, although the earlier unofficial tally reported the issue had failed in that precinct.

Police Still Seek Burglars Of Cars

Police Friday were still looking for thieves connected with several thefts from autos during the last week. A total of 24 cars have reportedly been entered since Tuesday morning. Police reported the thieves struck again early Friday in the general vicinity of 23rd and Sumner. Cars in garages and on the street, both locked and unlocked, were entered and everything of value stolen. Thieves have entered locked cars by smashing small vent windows and reaching through to unlock the doors. Garages have been entered by the thieves breaking windows or prying doors open, police said.

Royalists Claim More Gains In Yemen Battle

Damascus, Syria (P) — Monarchists claimed more victories Friday in their fight to retain Yemen. But republican rebels holding the Red Sea country said monarchist advances on the capital, San'a, were being smashed by air and ground assaults.

Both claims came from the radios of pro-monarchist Saudi Arabia and the pro-republican United Arab Republic. There were no reports directly from inside Yemen itself.

Saudi Arabia's radio Mecca said monarchist tribal warriors under the leadership of Prince Hassan were besieging the republican garrison at Sannar, about 60 miles north of San'a.

Casualties High

"Royalist forces, climaxing a 48-hour battle, mercilessly shelled the Sannar garrison inflicting countless casualties among rebel defenders," the Mecca broadcast said. "The position is expected to fall into royalist hands at any moment."

Mecca radio said it was getting information through the monarchist Yemeni legation in Jidda from Hassan's headquarters inside Yemen. It did not disclose the location.

The broadcast said several tanks of the republican forces were destroyed and that the monarchists were continuing a march toward San'a.

Quick Work

In Cairo meanwhile the UAR radio quoted Yemeni republican Premier Abdullah Sallal as saying his army troops and national guardsmen were "quickly annihilating infiltrators sent into northern Yemen." Sallal charged that Saudi Arabia's King Saud supported the monarchist attacks with Saudi troops.

The UAR government radio said Sallal told its correspondent in San'a that republican warplanes had "relentlessly raided the infiltrators" during the past two days and that their position is now hopeless.

According to the Cairo broadcast, Sallal said an unspecified number of Saudi troops had crossed into Yemen with Yemeni warriors in the north and Northeast Thursday.

Being Finished

"They are currently being finished by the besieging republican army and national guardsmen in the north," Sallal was quoted as saying. "The infiltrators suffered numerous casualties and many fled leaving behind Saudi arms."

Saudi Arabia has denied it has sent troops to Yemen but charged that the United Arab Republic dispatched fighter planes and heavy arms to help the republican forces.

Algeria Backs Fidel; Hands U.S. Warning

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — Newly independent Algeria backed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's regime Friday and warned the United States that any attempt to overthrow it would be "dangerous for world peace."

Algeria's position was outlined in a major foreign policy speech by Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti. He was the first non-communist speaker to back the Castro regime publicly in the United Nations General Assembly.

Khemisti said the Cuban government has no aggressive aims and he called urgently for a lessening of tension between Cuba and the United States.

He spoke only 3 days after Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, who has been lionized socially by the communist and other delegations here, affirmed Algerian neutralism as the country became the 109th U.N. member.

Ben Bella will see President Kennedy in Washington Monday and will go to Havana later in the week to meet Castro. Castro sent a goodwill mission to Algiers in July and Ben Bella was greeted by Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos in a meeting here last weekend.

While Khemisti addressed the assembly, Ben Bella, after an early morning conference with U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, met in his New York hotel with the Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro leader.

5 Of His Children Died In Fire

Noble Hill and his 8-year-old son, Dallas Leo, stand dazedly in front of the wreckage of their home, where 5 of the 8 Hill children died in a fire Friday. A 6th child was saved by a babysitter. The parents and two of the children were not at home when the fire broke out. Their 3-room frame home was 5 miles north of Norwood in the Missouri Ozarks.

Cuba Getting $2 Million Per Year In Soviet Military Help

Washington (P) — Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin said Friday night Russia is now supplying military equipment to Cuba at the rate of about $200 million for this year.

Martin also estimated that at present over-all Soviet assistance in support of the Castro regime is costing Russia about $1 million a day "above and beyond what they are getting from Cuba."

In a CBS radio interview, Martin said Russia's help "is probably just about as much as Cuba can handle."

"We estimate," Martin said, "the Cuban people are getting about 25% less income than they did before Castro (took power). This will not do more than keep them at that level as far as we can see at the present time."

Martin, who is chief of Latin American affairs in the State Department, predicted that new U.S. penalties in foreign shipping in the Cuban-

Soviet bloc trade will increase Russia's financial burden. These penalties are expected to be imposed next week. Among other things these curbs are expected to deny U.S. cargoes to ships and shipping companies involved in carrying supplies to Castro from communist countries.

"We feel insofar as they (the communist countries) are unable to charter allied shipping and other shipping for use in trade going to Cuba they will have to do what obviously is more expensive; namely, use their own shipping, which is not always suited to this particular trade," Martin said.

Discussing over-all U.S. policy with respect to economic pressures, Martin said:

"We feel that one of the most effective things we can do is make Cuba as costly as possible to the Soviet Union, which is not too well off, generally speaking, and at the same time give them as little opportunity to make use of Cuba as a place from which to try to capture for communism any of the Latin American countries, which is certainly one of their major objectives."

WEST COAST HIT BY VICIOUS NEW STORM

Portland, Ore. (P) — Hurricane force winds slammed into the Pacific Northwest Friday afternoon, raking northern California at 120 miles per hour and driving northward into Oregon and Washington.

The ocean blow piled inland as far as the Cascade Mountains and screamed northward up the Willamette Valley as well as racing along the coast.

At least 12 persons were dead in California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Much of Portland was plunged into darkness. Debris littered the streets.

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield declared an emergency and ordered the National Guard into service.

This pounding new attack was another strike from the Pacific Ocean storm that first hit Thursday, sweeping along 1,000 miles of coastline.

In early afternoon Friday all power failed at Crescent City on the northern California coast. Soon the inland southern Oregon city of Ashland was struck. Trees were leveled and a small airplane hangar was overturned.

Then reports began coming in as the wind cracked north: On the coast at Brookings an oil storage shed was picked up and dumped into a mill pond.

A 200-foot-high steel tower blew over at the edge of Coos Bay, dropping a 115,000-volt line across the shipping channel.

At Newport on the central Oregon coast the iron roof of a building sailed past the courthouse and slammed into parked cars. An unidentified body was reported washed up onto the beach. Inland again, a small building near Cottage Grove was blown over, injuring 3 men. All power failed at Eugene and the Weather Bureau said the wind force was 55 to 75 knots. Radio stations went off the air.

The Eugene blow cost 3 and possibly 4 lives as small buildings toppled and debris blew through the streets. Hospitals reported many emergency cases. Five or 6 sawmills caught fire in that Douglas fir lumbering center from sawdust burners.

Basketball Spectator Files Suit

A $50,000 damage suit was filed in Lancaster District Court Friday against the Nebraska School Activities Assn. for injuries a Nebraska State Basketball Tournament spectator incurred while leaving the University of Nebraska Coliseum.

Evenly Vogt, in her petition, alleges that on March 9, 1961, due to "negligence on the part of the defendant," she was "surreptitiously, and without warning run into, upon and against by a group of high school students attending the tournament."

She contends she received "serious, painful and disabling injuries" when she was "thrown to the ground and trampled" by the students.

Supreme Court Upholds District Court Decision

The Lancaster District Court decision enjoining the operation of a Lincoln asphalt plant as a nuisance was upheld Friday by the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The original action was brought by Thomas R. Karpisek and Clara A. Karpisek against Cather & Sons Construction, Inc.

The firm has an asphalt plant about 300 feet from the Karpiseks property.

The couple contended the plant gave off "large amounts of dust, silicon dioxide and residue which contaminates and pollutes the air around the plaintiff's residence."

The Supreme Court ruled that "where one's business operation as conducted materially and injuriously affects the comfort and enjoyment and property rights of those in the vicinity it becomes a nuisance and may be enjoined."

Other rulings Friday: —held that the Douglas County District Court had no right to modify a final divorce settlement previously agreed to by the parties.

The decision reversed the district court, which was instructed to set aside its order that Alfred M. Coker pay $235 a month rent in Omaha for his former wife, Ella P. Coker and their child.

Under the terms of the divorce settlement, Coker provided a house in California for his wife and child.

She later decided to return to Omaha and after a while secured the order from the district court to have her husband pay the rent in Omaha.

—affirmed a Greeley District Court jury verdict upholding the will of a former Scottsbluff woman.

The action came when a number of relatives objected to its terms, under which Mary Loretta Polla of Scottsbluff left nearly nine-tenths of her estate to a niece she also named administrator of the estate, Mable V. Cook of Greeley. The jury was asked to decide "whether or not the will was the result of undue influence exercised over the deceased by Mable V. Cook, a niece of the testatrix."

The jury found the will, dated Oct. 16, 1958, was not a valid last will and was null and void.

The Supreme Court found no grounds for reversing the jury verdict.

Meet Star Carrier Tommy Young

Meet Star carrier, Tommy Young of Adams, Nebraska. Tommy took over his Star route from his brother, Garry, and has shown great progress, which he attributes to frequent sales calls and being pleasant and friendly with all of the folks along his route.

Young

The profit from Tommy's route is being used to help buy his own clothes and a regular amount is put aside in savings for future plans.

A member of the Adams Midget baseball team, he is a fine infielder but says his favorite sport is basketball and that when there are not ball games being played, he can be found with a fishing pole. He is very helpful around the yard and enjoys doing things to help his parents.

Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Young, who have given him encouragement and good advice in handling his own business and feel that it has been a fine experience and an education for him.

Any young man interested in carrying the Lincoln Star should write to the State Carrier Department of the Lincoln Star in Lincoln 1, Nebraska.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

PARK VALLEY

The latest order of business from Park Valley is the formulation of a winter pinochle club. Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thorn last Tuesday evening was the "official planning committee" composed of Mrs. John Dell, Mrs. Tom Morey, Mrs. James Krifels, Mrs. Wayne Maake, and Mrs. Charles Waldron.

The ladies, representing themselves and their husbands, have scheduled pinochle parties on one Saturday evening each month for the rest of the winter season. The pinochle players have named Nov. 17th as their first "meeting" date.

And switching subjects with the sports department for a moment, here's the latest report on the Park Valley bowlers. Mrs. Milan Frey and Mrs. Donald Ak-samit, Park Valley members of the "Dipsy Doodlers" team, report that Park Valley is coming up in the Coffee Breakers' league!

"We had a pretty good week, and might even move up in the league," said Mrs. Frey.

We'll keep their present team standing a secret!

Birthdays and ball games are the centers of attention at the Tom Morey home this weekend. Coming from Omaha this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Rudeen and their children, Kathy, Delwin Jr., and Gloria. Mr. and Mrs. Rudeen, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Morey, will cheer the Huskers on at the Nebraska-North Carolina game, while Kathy, Delwin Jr., and Gloria help celebrate cousin Julie's birthday.

Julie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morey, will also have five neighborhood friends honoring her on her sixth birthday. Besides her Omaha cousins, Vicky and Lynn Herbert, Barbara Holmstedt, and Diane and Susy Waldron will be at this afternoon party at the Morey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudeen and their children will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morey following the game.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shepard will say good-bye to their departing houseguests this weekend. Visiting at the Shepard home since last Monday have been Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones of San Gabriel, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones plan to take in the Husker football game today before saying their fare-wells.

And spending her first of several future weekends in Lincoln is Mrs. Louis Henkin, who is the houseguest of her son-in-law and daughter, Maj. and Mrs. Joseph J. Herman. Mrs. Henkin arrived in Country Club Terrace on Wednesday, and plans to spend several weeks visiting her daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren, Leslie, and Michelle. She made the trip to Lincoln from her home in University Heights, Ohio.

Maj. and Mrs. Herman entertained the other half of the family earlier this month. Last weekend, Maj. Herman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Herman, returned to their home in Norwich, Conn., after spending two weeks in Lincoln.

Another birthday celebrated in Country Club Terrace this week was that of Mrs. Harold Kubick. Mrs. Kubick was honored at a surprise coffee on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gerald Smith. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Marvin Price were co-hostesses for the event.

"Surprising" Mrs. Kubick were Mrs. Lyle Treas, Mrs. Hal Gillette, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Paul Fridrich, Mrs. Paul Juengel, Mrs. Arthur Hickman, and Mrs. George Pearce.

And a coffee given earlier in the week was to welcome a new Country Club Terrace neighbor, Mrs. Takeo Utsumi. Mrs. Paul Fridrich hosted the party given last Tuesday evening for Mrs.

Utsumi and 12 neighborhood guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Utsumi, long-time Lincoln residents, moved into their new home in Country Club Terrace the first of October. They are now at home at 3825 Worth-ington.

BISHOP HEIGHTS

Here's an unusual twist for a birthday party. On Thursday afternoon, Dana Wentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wentz, celebrated her birthday with a "bakery party." Seven-year-old Dana and her nine guests were all given small undecorated cakes and provided with various decorating items. The girls frosted, trimmed, added flowers, spelled their names, and just about anything else you can imagine being done to a cake with bowls of colored frostings and cake decorators. They also received various baking utensils as party favors.

We would almost bet that they had a very messy good time. We also send congratulations to Mrs. Wentz—and her courage.

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

From Country Club Manor comes news of Colorado and Minnesota visitors in Lincoln.

Leaving the mountains of Colorado for the plains of Nebraska and the Nebraska football game were Mr. and Mrs. Darris Cumming. Mr. and Mrs. Cumming arrived in Country Club Manor yesterday where they are spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert G. Hanson.

Opening lead—ace of clubs. Something is usually wrong with the bidding if you wind up in five spades as a result of trying for a slam. Every once in a while you'll find yourself going down one at this awkward contract—and remember, you get no extra bonus for having undertaken to make eleven tricks instead of ten.

For example, look at the problem faced by declarer in this hand where he had to make five spades. West led the ace of clubs and shifted to a singleton diamond. Declarer took it in dummy, played a spade to the king and a spade back to the jack. West properly refusing both tricks.

South was now in trouble. He knew he could probably make the hand if he guessed West's distribution, but it was too early in the play for him to be certain of that.

Suppose he had led another spade at this point and West took the ace and returned a club. South could discard a heart, but he would then be faced with the question of how to return to his hand to draw West's last trump.

If West had two diamonds and two hearts, it would be necessary to lead a diamond to make the hand, but if West had one diamond and three hearts, it would be necessary to cash the A-K of hearts and ruff a heart to bring home the contract.

South had no way of knowing which was the case, but he solved the problem by avoiding it altogether.

Instead of leading the third round of spades at once, he first cashed the king of clubs, discarding a heart, and then cashed the A-K of hearts. Now he led the spade and could sit back and relax.

He didn't care what West returned—whether a spade, a heart, a diamond or a club. In all these cases he could win the trick in his own hand and draw West's trump to claim the balance.

Attendants Announced

Revealing plans this morning for a November wedding is Miss Diane Faubel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Faubel, who will become the bride of Kenneth W. Frost of Kansas City, Mo., on Sunday, Nov. 11.

Miss Carolyn Babcock will attend Miss Faubel as maid of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Sarah Hohenstein. Miss Deborah Faubel will be her sister's flower girl for the 3 o'clock afternoon service, which will take place at Faith Lutheran Church.

Mr. Frost, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frost of O'Neill, has named his brother, Richard Frost of O'Neill, to serve as his best man, and seating the guests will be Richard Faubel, brother of the bride-elect.

Included among the pre-nuptial courtesies which have been planned in Miss Faubel's honor will be the party for which Mrs. Ben Ellis will be hostess at her home on Monday evening, Oct. 22. The guests, office co-workers of the bride-elect, will present Miss Faubel with a miscellaneous show-er.

IN THE SERVICE CIRCLES

By TISSIE LINSCHIED

The 307th DCO are having a canape and buffet dinner party this evening in the Terrace Room of the Officers Club. Invited guests for the affair are Mrs. Lillian Bertram, Col. and Mrs. Ashley Denton and Col. and Mrs. Walter F. Duch.

The officers and ladies of the 343rd Bomb Squadron have a fun night in store for them this evening. At 7 o'clock, the party will start off with a hay ride (weather permitting) from Bolling Lodge. At the conclusion of this jovial excursion, the group will return to the lodge for a "cookout". The ladies are in charge of the evening entertainment, which includes a skit (by the wives) "What we think our husbands do on Alert". This amusing bit of tomfoolery, no doubt, will be enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Dean J. Canedy will be the guest of honor tomorrow to a punch party in the Terrace Room of the Officers Club. Forty feminine friends will be present to bid her farewell and bon voyage.

Dear Abby

Two Schools Of Thought

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The lady who lets her children run around naked is doing them and her community a favor. Nudist children are never juvenile delinquents. No, the world isn't going crazy. It is slowly awakening to the fact that morality does not come from the clothing store.

A NUDIST FAMILY IN NASHUA, IOWA.

DEAR FAMILY: Aren't there laws? And those who break them might risk having the book thrown at them. Including the Good Book: "When thou seest the naked cover him." Isaiah, LVIII, 7.

DEAR ABBY: I am very puzzled over your attitude toward people who let their small children run naked in their yards. You are fair in most respects but so unfair in this one. A naked child is a beautiful thing. Your thinking reveals either a sick or nasty mind.

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: My reason for objecting to small children playing naked in their yards is that child molesters and sex maniacs always seem to turn up where they are least expected. Parents who allow their children to romp unclothed should build high fences.

DEAR ABBY: I met an artist about six months ago and fell for him. I started taking painting lessons from him but he told me to save my money because I had no imagination and was wasting my time and his. (I knew this, but took the lessons to get to know him better.) He is not married and doesn't appear to have any inclinations in that direction. I have bought more of his paintings than I have room for, but I can't seem to get anywhere with him. I can't sleep nights for thinking about him. Tell me how to get this man to realize how I feel about him.

NO ARTIST

DEAR NO: You don't have to be an artist to draw conclusions. This man is in love with his art. All you will ever get from him is the brush.

before she and Capt. Canedy depart for England on the 19th. Hostesses for the afternoon affair are Mrs. William Johnston, Mrs. Paul Canney and Mrs. Earl Estabrooks.

Mrs. Howard O. Evans entertained Wednesday evening when she was hostess at a birthday canape party in honor of Capt. Evans. Guests enjoying the occasion were Col. and Mrs. Herbert O. Hamilton, Col. and Mrs. Ashley Denton, Mrs. Lillian Bertram, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gerald Linscheid and Lt. Col. and Mrs. James Pumford.

Mrs. Lillian Bertram was a hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained at a coffee. Invited guests included Mrs. James T. Gribble, Mrs. Herbert O. Hamilton, Mrs. Ashley Denton, Mrs. Walter Tkach, Mrs. Edward P. Denton, Mrs. Walter F. Duch, Mrs. Gerald Linscheid, Mrs. Warren Francioni, Mrs. James Kent and Mrs. Howard O. Evans.

Last Saturday evening Capt. and Mrs. Leon Angelel entertained with a canape party at their Walker Dr. residence. The occasion was to celebrate the promotions of Capt. Bruce Kolofsky and Capt. Pierre Martineau. Enjoying the evenings festivities were Capt. and Mrs. Albert Brow, Capt. and Mrs. James Kitchens, Capt. and Mrs. Daniel Fierro, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Nickerson, Capt. and Mrs. Don Sorenson, Capt. and Mrs. Kolofsky and Capt. and Mrs. Martineau. The group topped off the evening with dinner at Denton.

Mrs. John J. Philips entertained with a bridge party Thursday at her Sarnoski Dr. quarters. Ladies present were Mrs. Glen J. Lally, Mrs. Myron Piggott, Mrs. John M. Crook, Mrs. Donald Shilling, Mrs. Arthur Stokes, Mrs. Willie R. Moser and Mrs. Forest Marvel. Walking off with the prizes were Mrs. Crook, Mrs. Moser and Mrs. Lally.

Last Sunday, LAFB AkSar-Ben toastmistress Mrs. Victor N. Looney, Mrs. Joseph Olson and Mrs. James H. Eldridge motored to Omaha to attend a meeting and luncheon of the Cornhusker Council #5 of Toastmistress. It was an all day event held at the Town House.

The 551st Missile Squadron will have a luncheon Thursday at Tony and Luigi's, at 12:30 o'clock. The officers ladies will enjoy an Accessory Show presented by Mrs. James Hutchinson. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Gordon Mode, Mrs. William Nichols and Mrs. Thomas Morris.

The Green Room of the Officers Club was the site last Friday for the 98th Headquarters Squadron coffee. A Halloween motif was carried out and novelty personalized coffee mugs were presented to all the ladies. Newcomer Mrs. Robert Lancia was welcomed to the group. Guest for the morning affair was Mrs. Carl Julien from South Carolina. She is the mother of Capt. Robin Julien. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Edward Wick and Mrs. Lawrence Gottlieb.

Mrs. Joseph Olson entertained with a sherry party Wednesday afternoon following the OWC luncheon and fashion show. The event was in honor of her guests from Offutt AFB, Mrs. Lou Gazzaniga and Mrs. C. Slater.

Mrs. James Pierce was the guest of honor recently to a pink and blue shower, at the residence of Mrs. William Lambert. Hostesses with Mrs. Lambert were Mrs. Walter Bradley and Mrs. Robert Fair.

Miss Mary Shilling, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Donald Shilling will celebrate her tenth birthday this evening. It will be an evening out for dinner at the Colonial Inn. A friend of the family, Miss Wootie Dierks, will share the honors with Mary, as she too will be celebrating her birthday. Guests will also include Miss Dierks' mother, Mrs. Edward Dierks and Miss Maureen Sullivan.

Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor "took-off" yesterday afternoon in an Aero Club plane for Stillwater, Okla. The occasion is for the Homecoming at Oklahoma State University, of which Capt. Taylor is an alumnae. After, no doubt, enjoying the game against Colorado, and renewing acquaintances with old friends, they will "land" back at LAFB Sunday eve.

Capt. and Mrs. James Forgas departed Lincoln yesterday morning for Springfield, Ill., to attend the Saturday morning wedding of the Captain's sister, Miss Judy Forgas to Mr. Elmer Rice.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Myron Piggott left LAFB yesterday for Marquette, Kan. They will return Sunday with Mrs. Piggott's mother, Mrs. L. W. Broman.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert Lewis had a visitor last weekend. Miss Benny Brown is from Albuquerque, N.M.

M.Sgt. and Mrs. William Lambert recently had Mrs. Lambert's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy West of Mesa, Ariz., as their houseguests.

Chatter in the Corridor

By BARBARA TREBELHORN

This week has been a busy week for many people. Members of National Honor Society were kept busy planning and executing their plans for the three honors convocations and the coffeees following each.

Sixty-two seniors were on the honor roll along with 66 juniors and 22 sophomores. (The only sophomores that are honored are those who graduate from SE Junior High.) In order to be on honor roll a student must have 22 hours of 1's and 2's with no grade below a four.

Homecoming is less than two weeks away and members of Pep Club are quite busy making plans. Right now it's "Operation Decoration" according to Zib Olson, chairman. Entertainment for the dance will be the Coolers.

Candidates for Homecoming King and Queen will be announced in the October 19 Clarion.

Another event which took place this week was the Lincoln High-Southeast football game. Pep Club officers and Cheerleaders were entertained at a pre-game dinner at the home of Jane Warnholtz, LHS Peppers president.

All senior members of pep club were guests of Lanny Hoppe at her home for another pre-game dinner. Other Hostesses for the event were Jaque Miller, Diane Smith, Jean Freeman and Kay McGoogan.

Russia Ejects Diplomat

Moscow (P) —The Soviet Union Friday ordered another American diplomat expelled on charges of spying — even- ing up the score for two Rus- sians kicked out of the United States as spies.

The U.S. embassy termed the Soviet move so obvious that Minister-Counsellor John M. McSweeney did not even bother to protest.

The Russians charged that Kermit S. Midthun, first sec- retary at the U.S. embassy, "attempted to induce a Sov- et citizen, an employee of in- stitutions, to transmit to him information of a secret char- acter."

Won't Say How
McSweeney said Deputy Foreign Minister N. Smirnov- sky read a statement demand- ing Midthun be sent home for spying activities — but refused to say how, when or where the espionage took place.

Midthun denied the charge and said he could think of no basis for it. McSweeney said that in accordance with pro- tocol Midthun and his fam- ily would leave the Soviet Union within a few days.

The United States protested the expulsion last week of

MIDTHUN . . . put out

Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, assistant naval attache, on espionage charges.

The U.S. state department charged Smith was roughed up by Soviet agents who seized him in Leningrad and confiscated a camera, a tape recorder and other posses- sions. Smith denied he was on a spy mission.

A U.S. embassy official said that Midthun's expulsion was "obviously an arbitrary re- taliation for the two we ex- pelled. They were looking for another body to even the score and Midthun was it."

The United States last week booted out two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations after they were caught buying Ameri- can defense secrets from a U.S. sailor.

Reds Arrest An American On Espionage

Prague (P) — Communist Czechoslovakia announced Friday the arrest of a U.S. citizen on spy charges.

A report carried by the official Czechoslovak news agen- cy CTK said Robert Roy Bud- way, 34, of Washington, had collected defense data about this Red-ruled country.

CTK said Budway, who speaks Czech fluently, had been collecting samples of uranium ore and through friends had attempted to pass out leaflets hostile to Czecho- slovakia.

$3 GOLD COIN NETS $17,000

New York (P)—A $3 gold coin, minted by the United States in 1875, was sold at auction Friday for $17,000.

The coin was from the col- lection of Samuel W. Wolf- son, an industrialist of Jack- sonville, Fla., which is being auctioned off here.

An Encino, Calif., dealer, A. Kosoff, bought the rare gold piece, one of only 20 is- sued originally, for an un- identified customer.

Plain Talk

Here is Life's romance . . . a father and son in plain talk. We hear the father admonish his son — "You are building a life, a career. You need all the wisdom I have acquired through experience. Son, you should take along the Bible's blueprint for better living. Don't make the mistake some of your friends do . . . you need the church. You need the fellowship of church people to gain inspiration for conquering difficulties you must face. You must be cautious, honest and sincere. Your ambition must be worthy, your aim high, your heart pure. Quoting the Golden Rule is not enough, son — it must be lived. Finally, my boy, I hope you will regularly read Jeremiah 42:3 and keep faith with all of this plain talk."

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a number puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. The number of letters is 3 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message by the letters under the checked figures give you. —RECORD NOW 4-1—

Pius X Rolls By Boys Town, 13-0

Lincoln Pius X rolled over Boys Town, 13-0, Friday night for its 4th win of the season.

The victory was accomplished with surprising ease after the homestanding Thunderbolts stopped a Boys Town drive that reached the two-yard line with the game only two minutes old.

From there on in it was all Pius.

Pius, spilled 6-0 last week after having two TDs called back against powerful Sioux City Heelan, marched 80 yards in 10 plays to notch its first tally with 6:30 left in the first half.

Halfback Pat Ryan roared for a 38-yard run to put the ball on the Boys Town 19-yard line and set up the TD. End Bernie Rempe hauled in a 15-yard, 4th down pass from quarterback Pat Fitzpatrick for the initial Pius TD. Halfback Mike Ziegler, running with wreckless abandon all night, crashed over for the conversion point.

Fitzpatrick, the 130-pound field general, directed the Bolts goalward at the outset of the 3rd quarter.

The drive culminated in paydirt after a 74-yard march with 4:46 remaining in the 3rd period.

Dale Champoux, pile-driving fullback, ripped in from one yard out for the insurance touchdown.

A pass play covering 17 yards from Fitzpatrick to Rempe was the big gainer on the drive.

Boys Town, now possessing a 3-2 season's record, rocketed toward TD-land immediately after taking the opening kickoff. It took the Cowboys just 12 plays to reach the Pius two.

At this crucial point, quarterback Dave Keeder fumbled on a keeper, but recovered for no gain. The next play, a 4th and goal situation, went astray when Keeder pitched to fullback George Buckler who fumbled and lost back to the 8-yard line. Boys Town fought back after er the first Pius score and reached the Thunderbolt 8 yard line with 4th down and 5. An incomplete pass ended the Cowboy threat with 22 seconds left in the first half.

A crowd of 4,000 watched Pius sock the Cowboys, who were without their starting quarterback, Dave Dirks.

Dirks is hospitalized in Boys Town with pneumonia. Boys Town 0 0 0 0-0 Pius X 0 7 6 0-13 Pius: TDs, Bernie Rempe (15, pass from Pat Fitzpatrick); Champoux (1, run); PAT, Ziegler (run).

Nebraska basketball coach Jerry Bush became a grandfather for the first time Thursday. His daughter, Mrs. Orlando Arpen of Dyer, Ind., gave birth to a 6 pound 12 ounce son.

Rain Still Threatens Series

San Francisco (AP) — Rain and 45-mile-an-hour gale winds forced postponement of Friday's 6th World Series game and threatened plans to resume play today at 1 p.m. (CST).

An all-night rain soaked the uncut outfield grass at Candlestick Park, tugged at the infield tarpaulin and threatened to carry it away despite a number of 35-pound weights.

The possibility of playing the game today grew dimmer as heavy rain swept the area again Friday night, adding moisture to the already soaked field, and the weather bureau upped the chances for rain at scheduled game time to 70%.

If they had tried to play ball Friday, this could have been the day of the first 900-foot home run in the winds that made it difficult to open doors and shattered glass in downtown hotel windows. Even on a sunny day, Candle stick has its well-publicized wind tunnel.

No Time Wasted Commissioner Ford Frick, who delayed 71 minutes past game time before calling Tuesday's game in New York, wasted no time Friday. Frick was at the park early and called off the game well over 3 hours before it was scheduled to start. As soon as he and groundskeeper Matty Schwab stepped on the field, Frick waved his hands and said, "The game is off because the field is unplayable."

Nobody really expected to play Friday, for the weather man had predicted a 90% chance of rain Thursday night. Belmont Park should have such a good handicapper. His latest forecast for today was for scattered showers. However, the wind gusts should help dry the outfield area. Ironically this was the field Alvin Dark had been accused of watering to slow down the Dodgers in regular season.

Billy Pierce, the stylish lefty who never has lost at Candlestick, where he has a 12-0 record, still is slated to be the pitcher for the San Francisco Giants. Manager Dark did say he might switch to Jack Sanford for Sunday if today's game also is washed out.

Whitey Ford, winner of a record 10 World Series games, is to be the New York Yankee pitcher. Ford and Pierce had many duels in the days when Pierce was with the Chicago White Sox. Against the Yanks he had a lifetime record of 25-38. The Yankees needed only one more victory to close out the Series, for they led 3-2 in the best-of-7 competition. Both pitchers were well rested. Pierce hadn't worked since Sunday, when he lost the 3rd game at New York 3-2. Ford pitched the opener Oct. 4 and toiled 6 innings Monday before he was taken out for a pinch hitter with the score tied at 2-2.

Most observers felt that the rainout gave the Giants a break. Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, was set with his pitching order of Ford and probably Ralph Terry for the 7th game Sunday, if necessary. The extra day of rest enabled Dark to move Sanford into line for Sunday's 7th game with 3 full days of rest.

Except for the pitching rotation, the rain didn't seem to make much difference.

Both clubs were healthy. Both were waiting for their "big men" to start hitting. Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of the Yanks and Orlando Cepeda and even Willie Mays of the Giants were below par.

The two postponements in one Series sent the writers into the record books to ex-hume reports of the famed 1911 Series between the Philadelphia A's and New York Giants, who were rained out for a full week between the 3rd and 4th games. The 6-game Series covered 13 days. This Series already was sure to go to its 10th day and the way things have been going, the boys are wondering if they will be home for Thanksgiving.

The Yanks still were favored 6½-5 in the 6th game and 3½-1 for the Series.

Missouri Expects Easy Win Over Kansas State

. . . FIRST STEP TOWARD BIG 8 TITLE?

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Manhattan, Kan. — Unbeaten Missouri expects to take the first step toward the Big 8 Conference title the pre-season polls handed the Tigers by disposing of the Kansas State Wildcats here Saturday afternoon.

Some 18,000 Band Day fans are anticipated, along with an easy Missouri victory.

While the Tigers were tabbed the Big 8 rage by the pollsters, the Wildcats were hastily assigned to the cellar and nothing has changed either club's status.

Mid-East Title On Line Tonight

The Mid-East Conference football champion will be dedicated tonight at Seacrest Field.

Defending champion North-east and Hastings meet at 7:30 p.m. Both clubs are unbeaten in league play.

The Rockets are ranked 6th in the state and Hastings 8th.

Dandy Dan Devine's Tigers have completed their non-conference chores for the year and emerged with a 2-0-1 record. California and Arizona were Missouri victims, while the Tigers battled Big 10 Minnesota to a scoreless tie.

Kansas State coach Doug Weaver is still gamely trying for his first Big 8 victory and is suffering in the midst of an 11-game losing streak. Making matters worse, from the K-State standpoint, is the fact that the Wildcats haven't even been able to score a point in 3 sorties this fall.

Indiana, Colorado and Washington racked up a 68-0 margin against the Weaver Warriors.

Conference railbirds have been speculating that surprising Nebraska and steadily-good Missouri may meet Nov. 3 in a showdown game for the Orange Bowl trip. But the Cornhuskers, like Missouri today, must clear Kansas State next week and then stop Colorado, while the Tigers entertain a pair of toughies in Oklahoma and Iowa State.

While such speculation undoubtedly is premature, Nebraska opened its Big 8 drive with a 36-22 lacing of Iowa State via an explosive display of offense. Missouri is expected to join the Huskers atop the standings after today with an equally convincing start.

However, the Tigers have relied more on a Rock of Gibraltar defense rather than a high-scoring offense. Missouri leads the Big 8 in defense by allowing only 572 yards in 3 games.

But the Devines have a tremendous offensive threat in Johnny Roland, rookie halfback, who leads the loop in rushing with 310 yards. He is expected to romp at will through the porous Wildcats.

Kansas State will rely heavily on sophomore quarterback Doug Dusenbury and Willis Crenshaw, a 212-pounder converted from end to fullback, to crack the scoring barrier against the ironclad Tigers.

Both clubs will operate out of the wing T and both coaches are quite familiar to each other. Weaver was Devine's top aide at Missouri before taking the K-State job.

Huskers-Wolfpack Toss Beefy Lines Together

SEARCH FOR KICKER MAY SHIFT AT NU

Bob Devaney's been looking for the wrong man.

He's been searching for a place kicker for the Cornhuskers . . . what he really needs is a soccer player.

Out at Wyoming a soccer player, recruited by Devaney, kicked three 25-yard field goals last week. He also does the kicking off.

NU Assistant coach Mike Corgan said that the lad came to Laramie as a high school junior from England.

"We had a lad from Sweden who did the kicking off at Wyoming last year," Corgan said. "He boomed them into the end zone."

"But that kind of kicking has to be learned from childhood."

Soccer players kick the ball from a 45-degree angle and scoop the ball on the top of the shoe lace arch.

The English lad at Wyoming amazed coaches by being able to kick the snapback from the center without catching the ball.

Nebraska's place kicking—both on kickoffs and extra points—has been one of the few weak spots on the team.

Schrag Medalist, Too

A re-check Friday revealed that University of Nebraska golfer Stan Schrag tied Husker Frank Schreiner for medalist honors as Nebraska defeated Creighton 10-5 at Omaha Miracle Hills.

Schrag earlier was credited with a 75, but both Huskers fired 73s at the Bluejays.

pounds at the Wolfpack while North Carolina State's forward wall will average 216 pounds.

Nebraska right guard Bob Brown leads the beef parade at 259 among the starters, but when Coach Bob Devaney sends his alternate unit in the field settles in the center of the line with Jim Baffico at 268 pounds.

The Wolfpack has no one to match these two behemoths, but they can counter with several in the 220 to 240 pound class.

Middleweight Title Fight Is Postponed

San Francisco (AP) — The WBA world middleweight championship boxing match between titlist Gene Fullmer and challenger Dick Tiger of Nigeria was postponed Friday until Oct. 23.

Heavy rains that hit this area and caused postponement of Friday's World Series game at Candlestick Park also were blamed for the 3rd postponement of the title fight at the same site.

Co-promoter Norman Rothschild said Candlestick groundskeeper Matty Schwab informed him that the ball park, in his opinion, would not be ready for an outdoor fight as scheduled next Tuesday.

First Knight Win Over LHS

. . . ROHRIG KICKS GIVE EDGE

Lincoln Southeast captured runnerup honors in the Capital City football scramble Friday night with a hard earned 14-12 victory over Lincoln High.

The win was the first in history for a Knight team over Lincoln High and also the first Lincoln victory for second year coach Bill Stephenson.

The revamped Southeast attack included some outside running, a left handed passer and stubborn defensive play by the winners.

The Knights found themselves trailing twice in the game, but each time they fought back and in the end that brought the eventual victory.

The 5,000 fans at Seacrest Field hardly got settled in their seats when the Links turned a blocked punt into a quick 6-0 lead.

Southeast had fair field position at its own 42-yard line, but Dave Hollibaugh crashed through on a 4th down and blocked an attempted SE punt and recovered the ball on the Knights 11.

The Southeast line held for 3 downs against a Lincoln High running game, but on a 4th and 10 situation Hollibaugh tossed a 10-yard scoring aerial to Lee Wagner. Hollibaugh's PAT run fell short and the Links were out in front with 5:32 gone in the game.

The Knights also used a break for a springboard to paydirt. Midway in the second period Rohrig, possibly the busiest player on the field, intercepted a pass and rambled 30 yards to the Lincoln High 20.

Six plays later SE quarterback Steve Bock scored on an option play from 3 yards out and Rohrig kicked the first of his two vital extra points.

Hope Renewed

Lincoln High fans got renewed hope as the clock ran out ending the first half. Halfback Herman Tapp took a wide pichtout from his quarterback Dennis Trippel and scored untouched from the 3. Again the extra point try failed, but Lincoln High was able to take a 12-7 lead into intermission.

But the never-say-die Knights bounced back with the winning tally in the 3rd period on a play tried for the first time this year.

Southpaw Bob Erickson took a handoff from Bock, rolled to his left and tossed a perfect strike to Rohrig in the end zone some 28 yards away. And again Rohrig split the uprights with his conversion attempts.

Lincoln High won the battle of statistics thanks to a long 4th period drive and even scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

Penalty Hurts

The Links drove 97 yards down the field from their own 3. Once again it was Tapp who went over on a double reverse, but the penalty spelled doom for LHS.

During the drive Lincoln High picked up 5 first downs and used up 8 minutes and 20 seconds on the clock.

The Knights will go to Beatrice for a Mid-East Conference game next Friday while the Links will entertain Omaha Tech the same night at Seacrest Field.

Southeast Scoring: TD's—Steve Bock (3, run); Bill Rohrig (28, pass from Bob Erickson). PATs—Bill Rohrig (2, placements).

Uneasy Favorites Top Today's College Slate

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas, Penn State, Michigan State and Washington are uneasy favorites today in the games which headline the 4th week of the college football season.

Although they are picked by from 6 to 13½ points over stout sectional rivals, it wouldn't be a great surprise to see one or more of them beaten, thus scrambling the national rankings.

Texas, second only to Alabama in the ratings, is 13½ over Oklahoma in their game at Dallas, Penn State, No. 3, is a 7-point pick over Army's platoons at West Point's cozy Michie Stadium. Michigan State is 7½ over Michigan at East Lansing and Washington, No. 7, is a slender 6 over Oregon State at Portland.

Three of these games will be beamed to home television screens on a regional basis by CBS-TV.

The Eastern seaboard gets a look at Penn State and Army, starting at 12 p.m. CST. The North Central area can switch on Michigan State-Michigan at 12:30 p.m. CST. The Southwest, West and Northwest can view Texas-Oklahoma, starting at 12 p.m. CST.

Durocher May Be Through With Dodgers

San Francisco (AP) — Emil (Buzzy) Bavasi, Friday charged coach Leo Durocher with being disloyal to manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and said there was no longer room for both on the same club.

Bavasi, Dodger vice president, based his claim on a quote attributed to Durocher at a Dodger party in which Leo purportedly said:

"We would have won the pennant if I had been managing."

Neither Bavasi nor Walter O'Malley, owner of the Dodgers, was present at the party, held several hours after the Dodgers had lost the final playoff game for the National League pennant to San Francisco.

However, several members of the Dodger staff carried the remark to Bavasi who is in San Francisco for the World Series.

"Leo's carck was inexcusable and cannot be ignored," said Bavasi.

"Unless he proves to me he didn't say it, he's through, as far as I am concerned. However, I am willing to listen to him. But he'll have to confront those persons who told me and make liars out of them in front of me."

Another Dodger official, who wished to remain unidentified, insisted that the Durocher quote was distorted.

UCLA Wins 35-7 Contest

Los Angeles (AP) — Mighty UCLA smashed Colorado State 35-7 Friday night, dealing the winless Rams their 20th straight loss, a losing streak that goes back to 1960.

Colorado State, starting the game with a 19-game losing streak, played like the team members hadn't heard about it. Had not Bob Lavender dropped a sure touchdown pass from southpaw John Christensen, the halftime score would have been 14-13 in favor of the hapless Rams.

But Lavender redeemed himself when he recovered Larry Zeno's fumble on the Bruin 18. Lavender then made a spectacular basketball catch of Bill Wren's 13-yard toss to put the ball on the UCLA 5, where Wren tossed a touchdown pass to end John Swanson.

pears in danger of being tripped up this week.

Alabama, the defending national champion, is host to Houston at Tuscaloosa and should win by 3 touchdowns—more if coach Bear Bryant happens to be in an uncharitable mood.

Louisiana State, No. 6, is host to Miami (Fla.) and George Mira's potent passing arm at Baton Rouge and favored by 11 points. Arkansas, No. 8, is 19½ points over Baylor at Fayetteville, Ark.; Purdue, No. 9, is 20 over unbeaten but overmatched Miami (Ohio) at Lafayette, Ind., and Ohio State, No. 10, is a whopping 27 points over an Illinois team which hasn't won a game in the last two years.

The game at Dallas, pitting the brains of Oklahoma's coach Bud Wilkinson against those of former pupil Darrell Royal, is a 75,000 sellout. Texas, with a powerful fullback in Ray Poage, is unbeaten in 3 games. Oklahoma's sophomore-studded squad was good enough to beat Syracuse but lost a squeaker to Notre Dame.

Penn State has been impressive in beating Navy, Air Force and Rice but runs into a hard-hitting Army team with a fresh winning spirit instilled by coach Paul Dietzel. Coach Rip Engle of Penn State fears a repetition of 1961 when Army rebounded from a loss to Michigan to beat the Staters, 10-6.

Michigan State figures to have too much overall speed for Michigan at East Lansing but this is a game of such intense rivalry that form usually can be discounted. Both won games last week after losing openers.

Washington, unbeaten but once tied, is counting on a strong defense to halt Terry Baker, the multiple threat

United States Into Lead At World Meet

Kawana, Japan (AP) — An all North American duel for the Eisenhower Cup, symbol of World Amateur golf supremacy, shaped up today with a revived U.S. team taking a two-stroke lead over Canada going into the final round of the world team championship.

The U.S. team came back from a miserable second round to top the Canadians, 649 to 651 strokes, after 54 holes.

In the final 18-hole round tomorrow, Canadian Gary Cowan battles Dick Sikes, a University of Arkansas physical education major, for individual honors. Cowan has scored 68-71-72-211 and Sikes 69-76-69-214 on the picturesque Fuji course, set along a small chunk of the Pacific.

The Britain-Ireland team, sparked by Michael Bonalack's 69 and Alexander Sandler's 72, moved into 3rd place with 658 strokes, followed by New Zealand with 660. Mexico had another 69 shooter in Juan Estrada and moved into 5th place at 672.

Ninety-two players from 23 nations played in near seclusion at this somewhat isolated course 80 miles southwest of Tokyo. Team scores ranged from the United States' 649 to 797 for Pakistan. Scores for the low 3 golfers only are computed.

Oregon State quarterback whose running and passing smothered a big Stanford team last week.

West Virginia renews an old rivalry with Pitt at Pittsburgh and Cornell invites Navy for two of the better games in the East. Tennessee's visit to Georgia Tech, Maryland's game against North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Duke's intersectional clash with California at Durham spices the Dixie program.

In the Middle West, Wisconsin's offensive-minded sophomores are favored over Notre Dame and Northwestern, with 994 yards in two games, is given an almost negligible ½-point edge over rugged Minnesota, which hasn't yielded a point. Oregon invades Rice and Stanford takes on Washington State at Spokane in Southwest and Far West features.

Platters In 39-7 Rout Of McCook

McCook — The formidable North Platte combination of Pete Tateman and Larry Wachholtz proved too much for an aspiring McCook squad here Friday night and the Platters stunned an overflow crowd of 4,100 with a decisive 39-7 victory.

Wachholtz scored on runs of 9, 4 and 53 yards and threw a 56 yard TD strike to Tateman. Tateman completed the romp with tallies on a 5-yard plunge and a 50-yard jaunt with a pass interception.

Daryl Pasquan notched the only Bison marker with a 70 yard scamper in the 3rd period.

McCook threatened twice in the first half but were halted both times within the North Platte 15-yard line and went to the dressing room trailing, 13-0.

The Platters then iced the contest with a 20-point spurge in the 3rd quarter.

The Bison air attack was completely muffled with quarterback Rick Meyers able to complete just one toss for 4 yards.

Fairbury Sneaks By Crete, 27-21

Crete — All-State back Kaye Carstens exploded with a tremendous 4-touchdown effort here Friday night and his Fairbury teammates needed every score in putting down a stubborn Crete squad, 27-21.

The Jeffs entered the 4th period on the short end of a 21-0 score, but Carstens galloped 58 yards to give Fairbury the Twin Rivers Conference win.

Carstens' other tallies came on runs of 85, 80 and 2 yards.

Fairbury now stands 4-0 in Twin Rivers play; Crete is 3-1.

NFL Unbeatens Face Rematches

By JACK HAND

San Francisco (P)—Green Bay and Washington, the only unbeaten teams in the National Football League, meet teams they already have defeated Sunday in the 5th week of the season.

The Packers, rolling along with 4 straight wins, take on the Minnesota Vikings, who still haven't broken into the victory column. When they played at Green Bay on opening day, the Packers rolled, 34-7.

Washington has won 3 and tied one in the 4 starts and will try to make it two in a row over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis. The revived Redskins beat the Cardinals 24-14 in Washington Sept. 30.

Two additional rematches are on Sunday's 7-game NFL program. The New York Giants' opposition will be the Pittsburgh Steelers, a team they just did manage to edge 31-27 in Pittsburgh Sept. 30.

The San Francisco 49ers, upset winners over Baltimore last week, hope to avenge an opening day 30-14 defeat by Chicago when they invade the home of the Bears. It will be the home opener for coach George Halas' Chicago team.

Detroit, nosed out by Green Bay in a titanic struggle of defensive giants 9-7, expects to roll over the winless Los Angeles Rams at Detroit. The Rams have lost 4 straight.

Philadelphia and Dallas, still hoping to fight their way back into the Eastern Conference scramble, play at Dallas. The Eagles' Sonny Jurgensen had a tough night in Pittsburgh last Saturday under the Steelers' rush line.

Baltimore plays at Cleveland in a most important game for both clubs. All even at 2-2 after their first 4 games, both the Colts and Browns need a win to get into the race. The Colts' Johnny Unitas was booed last week in a losing effort against San Francisco. The Browns had to scramble to get past Dallas.

In the American Football League, one game was played Friday night, Dallas at Boston. San Diego will be at Buffalo Saturday night. In two Sunday games the New York Titans will be at Houston and Denver at Oakland.

The form was a little uneven last week but here's the way it looks from here:

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Green Bay 41, Minnesota 7

—The Packers start a 5-game road trip but the Vikings are out of their class. Packers lead league in almost everything, including interceptions, and Fran Tarkenton of the Vikings has been intercepted 9 times. Wait until Herb Adderley, Willie Wood and Hank Gremminger get after him.

Detroit 31, Los Angeles 21—Milt Plum to riddle Rams' pass defense while Dan Lewinski and Nick Pietrosante ramble. Rams will have to wait for Vikings next week to get in victory column.

San Francisco 21, Chicago 17—J. D. Smith and Bill Kil-

Beatrice Edges

Nebraska City—Don Roberts raced for two touchdowns and Larry Goodenough made good on two placements to lead Beatrice by Nebraska City, the defending Twin Rivers Conference champion, 14-13.

Nebraska City: TDs, Warren Cates (7, run); Bruce Madsen (13, pass from Jay Fenstermacher). PAT, Harlan Fenske (run).

Falls City Scores Win In Twin Rivers Contest

Falls City—Falls City opened the scoring in the second quarter with 6 points and went on to score touchdowns in the final 2 periods in upending Plattsmouth 19-7 in a Twin Rivers Conference game here Friday night.

Plattsmouth: TDs, Dave Nettlemann (64, pass from Leland Prichard). PAT, Gary Christensen (kick).

Falls City: TDs, John Martin (14, run); Gary Schacht (10, run); Charles James (15, run). PAT, James (run).

Fremont Bergan Wins

Fremont—Fremont Bergan had little trouble here Friday night in disposing of Plattview, 26-7, as 6 Bergan players entered the scoring column.

Plattview: TD, Eric Stevens (3, run). PAT, Mike Dill (run).

Fremont Bergan: TDs, Ron Hirsch (20, run); Larry Gohbel (7, run); Don Anderson (8, run); Cary Gray (9, run). PATs, Ruben Martinez (run); Tom Rice (kick).

mer to spoil home opener of injured Bears, who now have lost Angelo Coia.

New York 35, Pittsburgh 24

—Y. A. Tittle to pick holes in Steelers' secondary despite good rush by Pittsburgh line. Paul Dudley's return beets up Giants ground game but Steelers' have edge on rushing with John Henry Johnson and Joe Womack.

Cleveland 24, Baltimore 21—Jimmy Brown too much for Colts' defense although Browns' secondary could be soft pickings for Johnny Unitas.

Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21—Dan Perkins, Amos Marsh on the ground and Eddie LeBaron in the air give Cowboys' one-two punch against Eagles' no run-all pass attack of Sonny Jurgensen.

St. Louis 17, Washington 14—Skins won in Washington 24-14 but Wally Lemm should come up with defense to stop Norm Snead-Bobby Mitchell combo.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL LEAGUE

San Diego 35, Buffalo 14 (Saturday)—John Hadl has found the touch with help of Keith Lincoln and Bills should lose 6th straight.

Houston 31, New York 21—Another drubbing for the Titans.

Denver 28, Oakland 14—Broncos did it before at home and figure to do it again with Frank Tripucka and Gene Mingo.

Kentucky Grinds Out 27-8 Victory

Detroit (P)—Kentucky shook Perky Bryant loose for 3 short touchdown runs Friday night and methodically ground out a 27-8 inter-sectional football victory over Detroit.

The Wildcats, winning for the first time in 4 games under new coach Charlie Bradshaw, relied almost entirely on their pounding ground game.

Kentucky: 14 0 6 7—27
Detroit: 0 0 8 0—8
KY—Bryant 1 run (Simpson kick)
KY—Bryant 7 run (Simpson kick)
DET—Banks 41 pass from Gross (Walcosky run)
KY—Bocard 47 run (kick failed)
KY—Bryant 3 run (Simpson kick)

Aquinas' Defense Tough In 14-0 Win

... AUBURN FALLS

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Auburn — David City Aquinas let its defensive wall pave the way to a 14-0 victory over Auburn Friday night.

The hard-nosed monarchs, of Butler County squelched any hope of an Auburn upset in this Class B tussle by allowing just 17 yards rushing for the entire game.

Meanwhile coach Gene Piller's ranked team punched over scores in the second and last period. It was Aquinas' 4th win in 6 games and Auburn's second straight loss and evened the record at 3-3.

Husky interior linemen James Birkel (206 pounds), Leonard Havlovic (215), LeRoy Kobza (190), and Ray Coleman (206) slammed the door on Auburn's offenses.

In the second half Auburn was a minus 10 yards on its ball carries.

Speaker Charges 'Graduate Teaching Students Master Nothing For Degree'

By KAREN KENNEY
Star Staff Writer

Dr. John B. Brubacher charged Friday that too many education students are getting a master's degree "without remotely mastering anything."

In attacking the major tenets of present educational study on the graduate level, the national educator from the University of Michigan told members of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education:

"It is high time we do the best we can do under improved circumstances—rather than the best we can do with what we have."

The president-elect of the National Society of College Teachers of Education is in Lincoln this weekend for an annual NCSTE business meeting, and addressed a convocation of Teachers College faculty, public school administrators and state department of education officials.

To "improve circumstances," Dr. Brubacher proposed the initiation of an intensive graduate school program begun within the present education program.

Selected Group Needed

"But, we need a selected group of students with a selected faculty," he said. "The graduates we are getting, on a whole, are below the level of students in other professional graduate areas. . . we should seek to recruit students with bachelor's degrees from the humanities and social sciences, and not necessarily concentrate on those who have had education courses."

To woo these superior students, there must be a superior program worthy of them, he said.

The stepped-up, 3-year study suggested by Dr. Brubacher included: one year of solid units of basic education courses; one year of master's specific area of knowledge; one year of "cementing" the educational and academic learning into a productive unit.

"We may even learn that a 4-year program is desirable and necessary," he declared.

"And, when word gets out about the superior ability of these superiorly-trained students, then superior jobs will be made available for them. 'Quality Attracts Quality'."

"This school-within-a-school will act, we hope, as a yeast for the whole educational set-up on a 'quality attracts quality' basis," he concluded.

The criticism of the present program and the proposed new program of graduate preparation for educators brought varied comment from the audience.

When asked, "Are you accepting, then, the idea that our courses are diluted?" Dr. Brubacher replied, "Yes, I am."

Dr. Brubacher also reaffirmed, under fire, his stand that education students, compared as a whole with students in other professional areas, are of less superior quality.

He stressed the fact, however, that those superior students already in education should not be overlooked in supplying the superior clientele for his proposed plan of intensive graduate study.

AEC Extends Area For New Lower Yield Tests

Washington (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said Friday the test area around Johnston Island in the Pacific has been extended for a new series of lower yield, low altitude nuclear weapons tests.

A spokesman said the extension would have no effect on the missile-launched high altitude test scheduled over the Pacific Sunday night or early Monday morning. The new regulations take effect Monday.

Meanwhile, the AEC announced a low yield underground nuclear test at the Nevada test site, the 54th in the Nevada underground series. The low yield range includes devices with an explosive force of up to 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said Joint Task Force 8 in the Pacific had extended the test area on the surface to a circle with a radius of 600 nautical miles extending outward from the Johnston Island area.

The area radius increases gradually until it is 810 nautical miles at 40,000 feet and higher. This represents an increase of 130 nautical miles on the surface and 110 miles at 40,000 feet.

The AEC announcement said the new restrictions were "designed to accommodate tests of lower yield and altitude than the high altitude test of July 9, 1962." It added:

"As in the establishment of previous restricted areas around Johnston Island, the size and shape of the area is dictated largely by requirements for protection against the possibility of retinal burns."

"While lowering the altitude will result in a brighter flash of light, it also will minimize the possibility of contributing new radiation to the natural radiation belts above the earth."

Barnett Won't Vow He Will Obey Court

New Orleans (AP)—Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, through his attorney, told a federal appeals court Friday he could not promise to comply with all aspects of the tribunal's orders not to interfere with desegregation at the University of Mississippi.

In a reversal of a previous stand, attorney Charles Clark, representing Barnett, said the governor reserved the right to decide which of the panel's orders he would be able to comply with.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall said Barnett had "not purged himself of contempt."

But he recommended

against arrest of the 64-year-old governor, urging instead that the court collect all or part of the $10,000-a-day fine it imposed when it convicted Barnett of contempt Sept. 28.

However, attorneys for James H. Meredith, the Negro who enrolled at Ole Miss, urged the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to put its sanctions, including arrest and the full fine, into effect immediately.

The court delayed any final decision pending submission of written briefs from opposing attorneys in the case on Monday.

But he recommended

Shipping To Cuba Runs Risk

Washington (AP)—The United States declined Friday to guarantee the safety of British ships carrying cargoes to Cuba. In effect, it warned all maritime powers that vessels in the Cuban trade run some risk of attack by anti-Castro raiders.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White told a news conference: "There is no absolute guarantee against any incident taking place."

There already has been at least one attack which involved a British ship, a Cuban-exile organization, Alpha 66, which claimed to have carried out that operation, announced Thursday it is "declaring war" on all ships carrying supplies to Cuba.

He said, "The British were assured that these attacks do not have the sanction of the U.S. government."

But he went on to say that Cuban refugee groups "reside in many places all around the Caribbean Sea, and the United States cannot assume responsibility for acts initiated by Cuban exiles who have left from points not under U.S. jurisdiction."

Judge Nixes Reds' Motion

Washington (UPI) — A federal district judge Friday denied a Communist Party motion to dismiss an indictment charging that the party violated the law by failing to register as an agent of Moscow.

The court found no validity to the party's arguments that communist officials would incriminate themselves by registering the party under the Internal Security Act.

The party also had claimed that 13 of the 23 grand jurors who indicted it last December were prejudiced because they are federal employees.

Judge Edward M. Curran made no comment in dismissing the motion.

Party attorneys had said that if a party officer registered the organization he would incriminate himself by admitting he was a communist.

Student In Jail After Exposing Self In House

Police jailed a 22-year-old Lincoln student Friday after they were notified that he had been exposing himself to women in his apartment house during the past month.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said they were informed that the man had been walking around in a state of undress in his apartment while leaving the apartment door open.

French Block Hits Monaco Briefly

Monte Carlo, Monaco (UPI) — The French government, angered by Monaco's adamant stand against paying taxes to France, threw a customs barrier around this princely principality at midnight Friday but withdrew it 30 minutes later.

There was no immediate explanation for the sudden turnabout by French officials.

However, one unconfirmed report said France had decided to impose the short customs blockade as a test-run for further harassment if the Monegasques continue to oppose French tax demands.

Cars were lined up for more than a quarter of a mile on either side of the Monegasque border as French customs officers swung into action on orders from President Charles de Gaulle's government.

The Prince arrived here only moments before from Paris where last-ditch talks had been held between the two sides.

De Gaulle ordered the blockade when Monaco, a 368-acre tax-free state, continued to defy France and there was no sign of a possible agreement over sharing Monegasque business profits.

The sunny seaside center attracts thousands of tourists annually. Scores of international concerns have established "headquarters" there to escape French taxes.

Pro-Castro Students Jeer At Panama Bridge Opening

Panama (AP) — A new, U.S.-built bridge over the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal opened Friday to jeers of students waving Cuban revolutionary flags and a boycott of almost the entire diplomatic corps.

The diplomats refused to attend the opening ceremonies sponsored by the joint U.S.-Panama Commission on a charge that their invitations did not come from official Panamanian channels. They were miffed, too, because arrangements called for their use of buses, rather than their own cars, to reach the bridge.

Ambassadors from only 5 countries attended the ceremonies opening the span linking the Americas for the first time since the Panama Canal was dug nearly 50 years ago. These ambassadors were from Italy, West Germany, Great Britain, Nationalist China and Spain.

None of the ambassadors of Latin America turned out. The foreign ministry agreed there were no official invitations issued by the government but it said the diplomatic corps was invited by an agency accredited by the Panamanian government—the joint U.S.-Panama Commission.

A foreign ministry spokesman said it expected explanations from the diplomats who failed to attend but that none would be demanded.

Construction of the bridge with $20 million in U.S. funds has become a sore point with Panamanian nationalists who claim Panama's sovereignty over the canal.
